

COOLIDGE NOMINATED; LEADERS IN BITTER FIGHT OVER RUNNING MATE

Colo. Woman New Federation President

WINS POST BY WIDE MARGIN

Mrs. John D. Sherman Honored By Delegates In L. A. Convention

CLOSE FIGHT FOR VICE PRESIDENCY

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt Principal Speaker on Day's Program

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, June 12.—Mrs. John D. Sherman, of Estes Park, Colo., was elected president of the General Federation of Women's clubs by a majority of more than 2 to 1 over Mrs. Wallace T. Perham, of Glendive, Mont., according to official announcement today.

Mrs. Sherman received 1314 votes while Mrs. Perham obtained 672 ballots, the elections committee reported.

Mrs. Edward F. White of Indianapolis, Ind., the only candidate for first vice-president received 1879 votes.

Second vice-president was not chosen, neither Mrs. W. A. Alvord, of Michigan; Miss Florence Dibert, of Pennsylvania; or Mrs. John Ruhl, of West Virginia, receiving a majority. Another election today or tomorrow will be necessary to fill the office.

Mrs. James E. Hayes, Montezuma, Ga., was re-elected to the office of recording secretary, as was Mrs. Florence C. Flores, Cleburne, Texas, to the treasurer's post. They had no opposition.

Mrs. Catt Speaker

Idealism as the panacea for inefficiency was urged today by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, pioneer suffrage leader, speaking on the subject "The Three I's" before the convention.

"When war comes, idealism possesses the spirit of the people," Mrs. Catt said. "No matter what the real cause for a war may be, every people believes it is fighting for some great and glorious principle. It is the way men dupe themselves into a justification for war. When war ends, idealism slips behind the horizon like a setting sun and men grope their way through a twilight of doubt. There is no progress, no the witness without the stimulation of idealism.

The emancipation of women is the greatest result of war, Mrs. Catt believes. When the World War began, women voted equally with men in only four nations, and in eleven states of the United States. Now, women vote on equal terms with men in twenty-six countries and have municipal suffrage in six others.

"So, I say to you," the speaker continued, "faith and idealism in human progress are finding expression now in the programs of women's organizations. There are four immediate issues playing for national action that are, I believe, supported by from 75 to 90 per cent of the membership of women's organizations. They are the federal education bill, the child labor amendment, the enforcement of law and the peace of the world."

Alienists to Aid Fight For Rich Boys

CHICAGO, June 12.—With the date of the trial set definitely for August 4th, attorneys for Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb today started building a defense of insanity for the two young college graduates who admitted murdering 14 year old Robert Franks.

The defense is being built up on the findings of many alienists. Doctors who make a specialty of disordered minds have been called to tell the jury that Leopold and Loeb were not responsible for their crime, that they were the victims of a dread disease, and that the murder of young Franks was the outlet for their pent-up, irrational emotions.

INDIAN DEATH EVENT TOLD AT TRIAL

Witnesses at Card Game Affray Lay Murder to Accused La Habran

Graphic description of a hand-to-hand fight between Ira Noble and Grady B. Rutherford, Osage Indian, that broke up a poker game in La Habra and was followed by the discovery of the Indian's dead body about an hour afterward, featured the preliminary hearing of a card game dispute and how it had ended when the Indian left the house with blood flowing from his neck. The hearing was still in progress this afternoon.

Prosecution witnesses, men who were present at the card game on the evening of May 5, testified to asserted details of an alleged quarrel and the purported stabbing of Rutherford by Noble. Nightwatchman Brown of La Habra was called to testify regarding the finding of the Indian's body in his own coupe, before the La Habra jail, at midnight after the card game.

L. D. Adair, 116 East Maple avenue, Fullerton, the first witness summoned by C. N. Mozley, chief deputy district attorney, told how the dispute had started over a card game, and how it had ended when the Indian left the house with blood flowing from his neck. Adair's story differed materially from the account of the struggle said to have been given by Noble to the authorities following his arrest.

Demand Cards Cut

Adair was one of the card players, he said. Noble, he said, was seated beside Rutherford, with Jack Rhodes, companion of the Indian, on his other side. Others in the game were William Noble, brother of Ira, Granville Noble, their nephew, at whose home the game took place, "Red" Cole and a man named Miller. Luther Noble was present, but took no part in the game, Adair said.

The Indian was dealing "stud" poker, the witness said, and was engaged in betting with Ira Noble. Rutherford, he said, had queens, one "in the hole," and Noble had a pair of sixes in sight. As the final card was being turned, Adair said, Noble suddenly demanded that the cards be cut. "An argument resulted," Rhodes declared, "that Noble had no right to call for a cut when the card had been turned. Words followed and Adair said he saw Rutherford and Noble rise from their seats, exchanging blows.

They fought near the table for a moment, when Luther Noble separated Adair. Before they were separated Adair said he thought he saw Noble reach into his pocket and then, Adair testified, he thought he saw the flash of a knife as Noble's hand rose and fell. Blood gushed from under Rutherford's chin, the witness said.

Adair said he saw but one blow struck with the supposed knife.

He heard someone say "Get him to a doctor," and the Indian turned and walked through a doorway into another room. At the same time Adair said he, himself, left rather hastily, through a rear door.

In cross-examination, Attorney L. A. West, representing the defense, asked the witness if he had seen anyone holding Noble's arm as the quarrel started. The witness said he had not.

West attempted to introduce as an exhibit the shirt purported to have been worn by Noble on the night of the quarrel, Adair saying that he believed it to be the same shirt, but the court sustained an objection by the prosecution.

Adair's testimony made no reference to a previous quarrel between Noble and Rutherford, which was understood to have been "renewed" on the night of the Indian's death.

In statements made to the authorities after his arrest, Noble was said to have declared that Rutherford came to the house "looking for him" and immediately started a fight. Noble was also alleged to have stated that he drew his knife, only after the Indian had attempted to stab him.

Noble sat beside his counsel at today's hearing, giving close attention to the proceedings, but showing no expression when details of the quarrel were recounted.

Mrs. Thelma Rutherford of Orange, widow of the Indian, was also in court, gravely following the progress of the hearing, but giving no outward sign of her feelings.

EDUCATION BOARD PURCHASES 3 LOCAL TRACTS AS FUTURE SITES FOR SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Buy 3 Acres at Washington and Baker, Same Sized Plot At McFadden and Halladay and 12 Lots on Edinger, Near Parton, Van Ness

Preparing for the future need of additional schools in Santa Ana, the board of education today had completed negotiations for the purchase, at what members termed an unusually low cash price, of three school sites.

The agreements now in escrow call for the purchase of three acres at the northeast corner of Washington avenue and Baker street, from R. R. Smith; three acres at the corner of McFadden and Halladay streets, from Paul B. Whitmer, and twelve lots on Edinger street, between Parton street and Van Ness avenue, from Dr. Roy Whitson.

While there probably will be no building on the newly-acquired properties for two or three years, according to members of the board of education, sites believed by them to be ideally situated will be available when conditions justify building schools.

Meanwhile, they added, the city will be taking advantage of the present low price of land, will have to pay no taxes, as school property is exempt, and the school board will derive an income from two of the sites which at present contain walnut trees.

Last week a movement was begun by residents in the northwest part of the city to induce the school board to secure a school site in that section of Santa Ana, and the purchase of the property at Baker street and Washington avenue, according to Alex Brownridge, a member of the board, meets with the strong approval of persons in that district.

The other two sites are considered equally desirable, Brownridge said, as it will be only a short time he predicted, before the population in those vicinities will justify the erection of schools on the newly-acquired properties.

PRIESTS FIGHT WITH MANIAC IN CHURCH

NEW YORK, June 12.—In the psychopathic ward in Bellevue hospital was a patient who battled two priests and eight policemen in a church.

He is John Gorman of 50 Horatia street, a longshoreman, weighing 200 pounds.

He entered the basement of St. Bernard's Roman Catholic church, where 1000 children were attending mass, seized the money baskets, hurled them across the room and began tearing his face and clothes.

Father Joseph F. Smith and Father William B. Dugan ran from the altar and threw themselves upon Gorman.

Patrolman Panzelle of Charles street station, seeing the frightened children streaming from the church, rushed in and joined the priests in their efforts to subdue the madman.

Possessed of super-human strength Gorman threw the priests and patrolman right and left. Father Dugan procured a small chain and after a few minutes' struggle it was slipped about the madman's wrists. One heave of the muscular arms and the links snapped. The struggle continued.

Meantime someone telephoned Lieutenant Baxter, and a sergeant with six patrolmen rushed to the church. Even with the reinforcements it was several minutes before Gorman lay helpless, bound hand and foot with ropes. During the struggle both priests were stripped of their vestments and several policemen of their uniforms. Gorman was taken raving to the hospital.

PARTY SPLIT ON MAN FOR HIGH POST

Radical Law Making Body to Name 13th Chief on Friday the 13th

(By United Press Leased Wire)
PARIS, June 12.—Party caucuses to select a president of the Republic were held today.

Leaders of the left, having driven Alexander Millerand from the Elisee, sought to combine behind a candidate who would be certain of a majority tomorrow.

Paul Painleve's chances still were considered best but the smooth sailing towards the presidency which appeared to lie before the present president of the chamber was ruffled somewhat today by the attitude of President Doumergue of the senate.

The latter, who has ambitions to be the 13th president of France, even if elected on Friday the 13th by the 13th legislature is reserving his decision. This suggested the possibility of his becoming an independent candidate which would split the senate and chamber voters.

On the first ballot taken by the left, Paul Painleve received 307, M. Doumergue, 34, with 22 votes scattering.

Dr. Harding Is Spectator At Convention

MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM, Cleveland, Ohio, June 12.—Dr. George T. Harding, father of the late president who was nominated at the last Republican convention four years ago, appeared on the platform while Dr. Burton was making his speech in nomination today. The aged father of the late president was accompanied by his wife. He wore the G. A. R. uniform and sought an inconspicuous seat in the rear of the crowd.

Referring to Mrs. Harding, widow of the president, the father declared that she "simply could not make the grade" in coming to this convention.

KENYON IS URGED BY BUTLER

Congressional Bloc In Convention to Fight Iowan's Candidacy

DARK HORSE SEEN AS POSSIBILITY

President Receives 1065 Votes In First Ballot On Nomination

(By United Press Leased Wire)
MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM, CLEVELAND, O., June 12.—With the nomination of President Coolidge disposed of by what the chair ruled as an unanimous vote, except for loud negatives from Wisconsin, the delegates to the Republican National convention recessed shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon in a turmoil over the vice-presidential situation.

Word was handed down by William K. Butler, President Coolidge's campaign manager, that Judge Kenyon of Iowa was his choice, but it only served to stir up a veritable revolt among senators and congressmen included among the state delegations.

Kenyon was brought out after a positive announcement from another element among the Coolidge managers that Senator Curtis would be the choice. When the agreement among the Coolidge leaders became known and word of the switch to Kenyon spread, Senator Willis, chairman of the Ohio delegation, stated positively that Kenyon would never get the Ohio vote.

New Opposes Kenyon.

Postmaster General New, Indiana, came out flat-footedly against Kenyon. Senator Wadsworth of New York, while at first acquiescent, got in closer touch with his delegation and intimated that New York might stand for Curtis, whom it endorsed earlier in the day. Senator Reed of Pennsylvania left the floor for a conference with Butler. The congressional bloc on the floor was especially bitter against the move toward Kenyon.

Indicative of how wide the split was and the dark horse possibilities involved, Senator Pepper, of Pennsylvania, said he was in favor of Congressman Saunders of Indiana.

How rapidly the tide was turning further became evident when Nicholas Longworth, floor leader in the house, predicted a few moments after adjournment that the fight would be between Saunders and Curtis.

Senator Wadsworth at about the same time said indications were that Kenyon might not be pressed. The revolt against Kenyon was so complete that Butler appeared to be finding it advisable to back away quickly. All state delegations hurried from the convention hall immediately after the adjournment for caucuses.

The sudden and amazing shift and the halloping of a dark horse into the arena became more impressive as the moments went by. Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania and Senator Wadsworth of New York met Longworth outside the convention hall and told him they were prepared to deliver Pennsylvania and New York to Saunders and urged Longworth to get busy or Ohio.

Everett Saunders in from Terre Haute, Ind. He is 42 years old and has been in congress for several years. He has announced that he is retiring from congress voluntarily. Has been a member of the steering committee in the house and is one of the most expert congressional parliamentarians.

Leaders in Turmoil.

Considering the repeated switches that have been made, no definite guess approximating the ultimate answer to the vice presidential candidate could be warranted at 2:30. Indications were, however, that Kenyon was completely eliminated within an hour after he was put forward by the Butler faction among the Coolidge managers and the contest would be between Curtis and Saunders.

Indians climbed out strong with

Discover Insulin IN CITRUS FRUITS

DALLAS, Texas, June 12.—Insulin, prepared from citrus fruits, has been evolved at the laboratories here of Baylor college of medicine.

The world-famous remedy for diabetes, discovered two years ago by a Canadian scientist, has hitherto been prepared almost entirely from the pancreas of animals. A few scientists claim to have found traces of the strange fluid in vegetables.

Drs. N. F. Fisher and Earl B. McKinney of the Baylor medical staff claim to have developed a new method of preparation, sought by world scientists since insulin was first discovered.

The insulin-like substance was extracted by the local physicians from oranges, grapefruit and lemons.

"It was not confined to any particular part of the fruit; we extracted the substance from the pulp, rind and juice alike," the physicians reported.

Insulin, as first discovered, was an extract prepared from the isles of Langerhans, tiny brown sack-like bodies in the pancreas. It reduces the quantity of sugar in the blood of patients afflicted with diabetes.

The fruit insulin has the same sugar-reducing qualities of the animal insulin.

But more important than this, the physicians pointed out, the fruit insulin is an always easily accessible source of supply.

Scientists Learn Of Mother Earth From Her Quakes

BERLIN, June 12.—Earthquakes generally considered as purely destructive phenomena, really have an actual constructive scientific value—in determining the inner makeup of the earth.

It is possible through study of seismograph records, to determine whether coal, iron, salt, etc., exist in certain areas and to what extent, according to Professor Herold, famous Munich scientist.

Wisconsin Orator Voices Lone Protest On G. O. P. Platform

CLEVELAND, O., June 12.—A platform, following completely the desires of President Coolidge stands adopted by the Republican convention.

After hours of wrangling within the resolutions committee, the platform was finally presented and adopted at last night's session. A mighty shout of "ayes" greeted the question for adoption. A defiant shout of "no" came in answer from the Wisconsin delegation.

And back of this defiant shout was the drama of the present convention, breaking of bonds that will result in an independent ticket being presented to the country at the Progressive meeting here July 4, and headed by Senator La Follette.

The spirit of this movement which gripped the huge convention hall last night was perfectly typified by an erect silver haired and grey bearded man who stood in the flood lights before the thousands of men and women and presented a cause that he knew was doomed to defeat.

He was Congressman Henry Allen Cooper of Wisconsin. There was no bitterness in his mien of utterances as he faced the convention delegates who at times hissed and booed him. His was a spirit of tolerance, of calm confidence.

"Socialism," they shouted at the aged congressman as he read the Wisconsin platform, which he presented as a minority report to the convention.

"Yes," they called it socialism when Wisconsin first advocated the direct election of senators by the people," Cooper calmly replied.

a renewed boom for Senator Jim Watson immediately after the convention recessed. A band was gathered up hurriedly and went blaring through the streets and into the Cleveland hotel, with the Hoosiers behind it whooping things up for Watson.

"The Greatest in the Nation—Watson," read a big banner they carried.

Joe Keating, national committeeman from Indiana, predicted that Saunders will not get a single vote from his home state, as the Hoosier delegation was gathering for its caucus. The Indiana delegation is pledged to Watson and new hope was stirred as a result of the deadlock that has been reached.

Ohio Man Withdraws
Ohio announced the withdrawal of Judge Dickinson as a vice presidential candidate during the morning of the understanding that Kenyon was to be the choice. When Kenyon was suddenly upset by the revolt, Iowa was thrown up in the air. The Iowa delegates caucused early in the afternoon to decide what to do next.

Kansas decided to present the name of Senator Curtis. No formal caucus had been held up to 3 o'clock but the decision of the Kansas to stand by the senator appeared to be unanimous.

It required but one ballot to name Coolidge the leader of his party for the next four years. The Illinois delegation which had two Johnson delegates elected in the primaries, cast a solid vote for Coolidge. The first break came in the North Dakota delegation, which, when polled, showed seven votes for Coolidge and six for La Follette.

South Dakota Splits.
The second break in the solid Coolidge phalanx came when South Dakota cast ten votes for Hiram Johnson and three votes for Coolidge.

The final rift in the Coolidge column occurred when the Wisconsin delegation cast 25 votes for La Follette and one for Coolidge.

The total on the first roll were: Coolidge 1065; Johnson 10 and La Follette 84.

A motion to make the nomination of Coolidge unanimous was made by the delegation from South Dakota. Thomas Scott, the Wisconsin delegate who voted for Coolidge, seconded the move to make the nomination unanimous. It was carried with a shout. The other Wisconsin delegates shouted "no."

With the exception of very few voices, the nomination of Calvin Coolidge is made unanimous.

New Leadership.
Nomination of the President marked the emergence of a new leadership in the G. O. P.—a leadership of New England. The so-called "senate oligarchy" passes as dictator on the party organization with the rise of this new leadership.

The convention's choice was acclaimed by a wild din as the delegates and galleries shrieked, whistled and applied themselves to all sorts of noise making devices that had been distributed through the hall. Delegates and visitors broke loose from the restraint which has made this one of the quietest Republican conventions ever held.

The first great demonstration of the nominating session came at the conclusion of a nominating address delivered by Dr. Marion LeRoy Burton of Michigan. The tall, lean, red-haired young Yankee scholar and divine made a tremendous appeal. He concluded by presenting to the convention:

"The virile man—the staunch American—the real human being—Calvin Coolidge."

15 Minute Outburst
A cheer broke out over the hall as delegates and galleries rose to their feet. A delegation stirred, one banner moved forward and then, almost as one man, the 1100 delegates started a parade about the hall singing, "Onward Christian Soldiers," "Marching Through Georgia" and other old favorites.

After Dr. Burton sat down it required 15 minutes to quiet the convention. The chairman then called the delegates to order and asked if there were any other nominations. A shout of "noes" went up from the floor.

"I will now recognize a second for the nomination offered by Dr. Burton," the chairman said.

No Need to File Claim for Refund on Income Taxes

Taxpayers who paid their taxes in full on 1923 income and are entitled to refunds of 25 per cent, will not be required to file claims in order to obtain the return of the overpayments. Collector Rex B. Goodell announced at Los Angeles, Thad A. Davis, local representative of the revenue bureau announced today.

Lists of the full-paid accounts of individual income taxpayers are being prepared and will be submitted to the Washington bureau for approval, Davis added. When these lists are returned to Los Angeles, Goodell will issue checks and forward them to taxpayers.

It would not be necessary, Goodell said, for taxpayers to take any action whatever to obtain the 25 per cent refund. In fact, correspondence from taxpayers relative to the refunds would probably serve to slow down the work of listing the items and sending the schedule to Washington for approval. In order that the checks may be drawn, the collector added.

The only delay that may arise in sending out checks for the refunds will be due to the failure of congress to make funds for the purpose immediately available.

Goodell called attention to the fact that there appeared to be a general misunderstanding as to the amount of income tax imposed on corporations by the revenue act of 1924. The new bill fixes the income tax on corporations at 12 1/2 per cent, which is the same rate of tax applicable for the taxable year 1923. Corporations, therefore, are not permitted to take as a credit any reduction in tax for the payment due June 15, or any subsequent installment date.

The flat reduction of 25 per cent on the tax on 1923 income is limited to individuals and fiduciaries who filed on Forms 1040 and 1040A.

YOUNGER PRINCESS' WEDDING DISMAYS

SOFIA, June 12.—Bulgarian peasant folk have not yet recovered from the consternation caused by the announcement that Princess Nadejda, the second daughter of former King Ferdinand, had become engaged to the young Duke of Wurtemberg. The marriage of the couple took place on Jan. 29, but Bulgarians are still discussing Princess Nadejda's action.

It is not that the peasants object to Princess Nadejda's choice of a husband. They are glad she has married the young duke, who is 27 years old, handsome and dignified of bearing, and hope their life together will be long and happy.

What astonished the simple Bulgarian people and set their tongues wagging was that Princess Nadejda married before her older sister, Princess Eudisia. Among the peasants it is the rule that none of the younger daughters of the family may marry until the first-born daughter has taken a husband. Girls who break the rule are often outcast from their families.

The feeling of the peasants is exemplified by the action of the peasant maid who attended Princess Nadejda, as she is affectionately known. Upon hearing that her mistress was engaged, the maid exclaimed:

"Good Lord! How could my Nayda do such a horrid thing? It's awful. In my town they would stone me if I had treated my older sister so. Poor Doxide!"

"Poor Doxide!" by which is meant Princess Eudisia, the older sister, however, does not share the dismay of the peasants. She doesn't seem to mind a bit that Nayda was first to take a husband. She participated joyously in the wedding ceremonies, helped her sister in all the wedding preparations and, after the nuptials, returned to Sofia, where she resumed alone the task of managing the household of her brother, King Boris, which she and Princess Nadejda previously had jointly performed.

An average healthy man should be able to lift two and a half times his own weight.

THIRD ESKIMO HELD ON SLAYING CHARGE

EDMONTON, Alta., June 12.—Judge Dubuc of the Alberta provincial courts, who last year tried and condemned to death two Eskimos at Herschell Island in the Arctic ocean, is going north this summer to hear at the same place the case against another of the same race charged with the same crime.

The defendant in the new case, Ikalukpiak, was one of the two husbands of Khattia, a native woman. The other husband was Havougach whom Ikalukpiak is accused of wilfully slaying. As is the custom of Eskimo tribes in the Herschell island region, Ikalukpiak and Havougach lived with Khattia simultaneously. The trio had been domiciled three years when the tragedy came.

Despite a protest from all over Canada that the Eskimos condemned last year had the mentality of children, the execution was performed.

EASY DIVORCE HELD LIKE FREE LOVE

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 10.—Contention that there is "no real difference between divorce being granted for the mere asking, as it is, practically, today, and men and women living together without marriage" was made here by Rev. Dr. P. H. Mordick, pastor of King avenue M. E. church.

"Every time an anarchist, or some writer, advocates free love, a terrible hue and cry rises from all the decent people of the land. Yet, in the tremendous growth of the divorce habit, is not the nation pushing toward it about as fast as it would come by popular consent?" Rev. Dr. Mordick inquired.

"Many will say: 'It is horrible that two persons who have ceased to love each other should be compelled to live together. We know it. Our sympathy goes out to the unhappy pair. But, what about our nation? What about our homes? What about the little children? Have they no rights? What about religion? Is marriage no longer a sacred thing? Has it fallen to the level of a business transaction? If that is all, the home is shattered and the national life is doomed, for the nation rests on homes, not on individuals.'

"Everybody knows that two-thirds of the required causes for divorce, such as cruelty, desertion and non-support, are nothing but pretexts, often agreed upon by both parties. It is so easy that men and women are not stopping to consider whether they are fit for each other or not! Whether they wish to live together or not, but rush into marriages as lightly as in Paris, two members of the Latin quarter go and live together for a time.

Victrola production larger than ever

In order to insure the greatest possible production from the Victor factories—the largest in the world devoted to musical products—manufacturing schedules for the entire year have been approved earlier than usual. They call for 48% more Victrola instruments than we made in 1923.

Present and future Victrola owners can share our satisfaction in knowing that Victor quality has made such plans possible.

Twenty-one Victrola styles from $25 up.

Out tomorrow New Victor Records

Red Seal Records

	DOUBLE-FACED
Number	List Price
Manon—Adieu notre petite table (Farewell, Our Little Table) (Massenet) In French	1009	$1.50
Lakmé—Pourquoi dans les grands bois (Why Do I Thus Love to Stray) (Delibes) In French
Manon's pathetic little lament, and the chant of the priestess Lakmé. Two splendid examples of French operatic music, of Bori's beautiful soprano, of Victor perfection in recording.
Minuet (Haydn-Friedberg) Violin Solo	1010	1.50
Old French Gavotte (Carl Friedberg) Violin Solo
Imaginative presentations of the music of these courtly old-world dances. Both are light yet stately, and both melodious. Records of violin music such as only the Victor can produce.

Light Vocal Selections

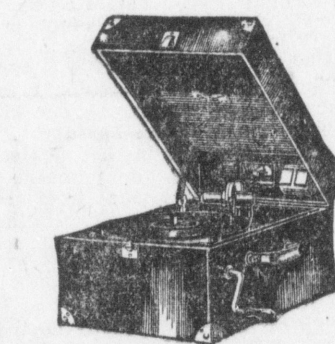

The Clang of the Forge (Vaughan-Rodney)	Royal Daddum	45414	1.00
Gipsy John (Melville-Clay)	Royal Daddum
Royal Daddum is in especial demand as a singer of "men's songs" and these records will also be in demand. Two robust and vigorous numbers, in rich, clear baritone.
The Sidewalks of New York	Shannon Quartet	19336	.75
Maggie Murphy's Home	Shannon Quartet
Old popular favorites—inherently of the days when popular songs were waltzes rather than fox-trots. Splendidly sung, and they make beautiful and harmonious records.
Song Bird, in Georgia (with Ukulele, Guitar and Hitting)	Wendell Hall-Carson Robison	19338	.75
Whistling the Blues Away (with Ukulele and Hitting)
These numbers introduce an artist new to Victor Records in combination with the well-known Wendell Hall, and this record presents the performances of both true to life.

Melodious Instrumental

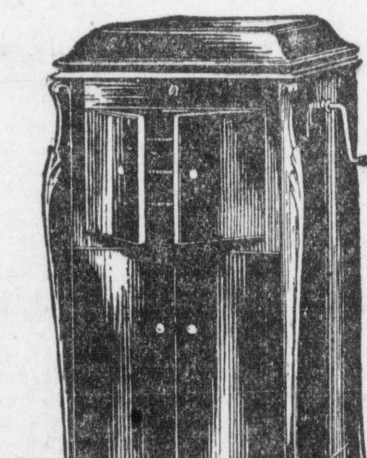

Victor Herbert Favorites (Piano-Accordion Solo)	Pietro
"March of the Toys"—"I Can't Do the Sum" (from "Babes in Toyland")
"Kiss Me Again" (from "Mlle. Modiste")—"Oriental Dance" (from "Wonderland")
Italian Melodies (Piano-Accordion Solo)	Pietro	19297	.75
"A Frangola"—"Carmen"—"Mamma Mia Che ve Sapete!"—"Carcioffoli"
Victor Herbert and Italian songs arranged for the accordion. Pietro makes them into artistic medleys, and plays them in vigorous style—a lively instrumental record.

Dance Records

(1) Where is That Old Girl of Mine? (Fox Trot)	Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra	35744	1.25
(1) Mandalay—Fox Trot
(2) Step Henrietta—Fox Trot
Something new and unusual! Four up-to-the-minute and popular dance hits by Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra on one twelve-inch record. Every lover of dance music will want it.
Cielito Lindo (Beautiful Sky)—Waltz	Max Dolin's Orchestra	19329	.75
La Golondrina (The Swallow)—Waltz
Wonderfully beautiful and romantic waltzes from Mexican sources—free of the fantastic element. Two of the best records any dancer ever waltzed to.
Don't Blame It All on Me—Fox Trot (with vocal refrain)	International Novelty Orchestra	19337	.75
You Left Me Out in the Rain—Fox Trot	The Benson Orchestra of Chicago
Beautiful and originally scored fox trots, the first with a vocal refrain, light and graceful in style. Records that are incentives to good dancing, but with enough jollity for the care-free sort.

Victrola No. 50 (Portable)
$50 Mahogany or oak

Victrola No. 100 $150
Mahogany, oak or walnut

Victrola No. 210
$110
Mahogany, oak or walnut

There is but one Victrola and that is made by the Victor Company—look for these Victor trade marks.

ENRICH YOUR BLOOD

With organic iron—Nuxated Iron—it's like the iron in your blood and the iron in spinach, lentils and apples.
It won't blacken or injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. Entirely different from metallic iron. It quickly helps put strength into your muscles and color into your cheeks. Get your doctor to make your red blood count today. Then take Nuxated Iron for a few weeks and watch your red blood corpuscles increase; see how much purer and richer your blood becomes.
How much stronger and better you feel; what a difference it makes in your nerves. Over 1,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. Your money will be refunded if you do not obtain satisfactory results. In tablet form only. At all druggists.

News Briefs

A resolution extending sympathy to bereaved families of the men who lost their lives at Balboa Sunday, was passed by the Santa Ana Ministerial association, meeting this week. It was made known today. Letters of sympathy to the widows of the men together with copies of the resolution, have been mailed.

George Gleason, religious work director for the Y. M. C. A. at Los Angeles, this afternoon at the local Y. M. C. A. building conferred with members of the Orange County Oriental Survey committee. Plans for the work to be conducted in this county and discussion of ways and means for gathering information pertaining to Orientals were introduced by Gleason.

Former residents of both New Hampshire and Massachusetts who are now Orange county folk today were being invited to attend annual picnic reunions of these states, which will be held in Sycomore Grove park, Los Angeles, Saturday.

Exhibits of work done by students of the Frances E. Willard junior high school here were shown to scores of visitors at the manual training building of the school yesterday afternoon. Work in wood, mechanical and domestic science was on exhibition.

Based on last year's attendance, more than 250 Henry county, Indiana, former residents, including many in Santa Ana and Orange county, are expected to gather for a picnic reunion, Sunday, at Brookside park, Pasadena.
This announcement was being broadcast here today by Roy Butler of The Register composing room, who has charge of local arrangements.

The auxiliary to Santa Ana post No. 131, American Legion, here today issued a statement to the effect that the entertainment scheduled for presentation at the Legion home tomorrow night was not being given under its auspices.

Residents of Orange county have until next Tuesday to file with the United States army engineer in Los Angeles what protests they may have against granting by the war department of the application of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric company for permission to extend the existing wood-piling bulkhead on the east side of Los Ala-mitos bay to a point approximately 160 feet north of Ocean avenue, Seal Beach, it was made known here today. According to Major E. D. Ardery, United States engineer for this district, consideration will be given only to objections based on navigation interests.

W. S. Decker, city building inspector, today announced issuing permits to F. J. Schorle of 1609 West Second street for the construction of a six-room residence and garage costing $3000 at 1509
West Sixth street, to K. D.
Collings of 824 North Bristol street for a three-room bungalow to be built at a cost of $1600 at 1313 West Eighth street and to Robert Phippen of 623 Wellington street for a $2000 garage at 1120 Poinsettia street.

Shotgun Fails; Kills Bear With Sledge; Arrested

SEATTLE, June 11.—If Ben Johnson, logging camp worker of Kerriston, Wash., hadn't killed a 300-pound bear which ruled the camp for several hours, he might have been killed.
Johnson found himself before Justice of the Peace John B. Gordon in Seattle, accused of killing game out of season.
Bruin, according to Johnson, smashed a heavy fence and slapped a 60-pound shoat the length of a pig sty.
"Then," said Johnson, "I fired two shots at close range. But he kept right on rampaging around, so I killed him with a sledge hammer." Judge Gordon took the case under advisement.

'Scream Bandit' Robs Youth in Chicago Crowd

CHICAGO, June 11.—A new type of woman bandit, armed with the most deadly weapon of her sex, has made her appearance.
She is the "scream bandit" whose depredations came to light today when Harold Brophy, a 19-year-old clerk, told how he had been held up by a pretty girl on a crowded street.
The concealed weapon of the bandit was a threat to scream.
Brophy was walking along Michigan boulevard when a girl stepped up to him and whispered:
"Hand over your money or I'll scream."
In a moment Harold envisaged his utter helplessness.
He handed over his wallet con-

FINAL HONOR IS PAID HERE TO H. N. THORNTON

Last sad rites for H. Newton Thornton, architect, who lost his life at Newport Beach Sunday, were conducted at 2 p. m. today at the Smith and Tutthill chapel, with hosts of Santa Ana and Orange county friends present and with the Orange Odd Fellows lodge and the Santa Ana Kiwanis club members attending in a body.

Impressive services were conducted by elders of the Church of Jesus Christ, Latter Day Saints, with Elder Joseph White head directing, and Elders Allen K. Jensen of Los Angeles, and
E. Rummel Cayton of Salt Lake City, delivering the eulogy to the departed churchman.

Elders Jensen and Cayton made brief reference to the tragedy Sunday, in which were lost the lives of eight Santa Ana persons, six of them business men and two of them little boys. Speaking particularly of the fine qualities of Mr. Thornton as a husband, father and citizen, the speaker consoled the bereaved family with the thought that later there would be a reunion of the family in heaven.

Sing Favorite Songs
Four church songs, favorites of the deceased, were sung by the church choir, composed of S. J.
Francis, Elder Cayton, Mrs. Carol Whitehead and Mrs. Frances Moulton, with Miss Cora Gardner accompanying. The songs were,
"Come, Dearest Lord," "Jesus Lover of My Soul," "I Know That My Redeemer Lives" and
"Though Deepening Trial."

The deep and sincere sympathy of the community for the loss in the Thornton home of the father and two sons was evinced by the large attendance and the profession of beautiful flowers which banked the casket.

Among the pieces was a star and crescent, by the church; spray, by the contractors of Santa Ana; wreath, by the Kiwanis club; wreath, by the Masonic Temple Building association, and a spray, by the Orange county division of the Los Angeles Builders' exchange.

Palbearers were L. R. Crawford, Karl E. Lambert and John W. Estes Jr., of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club; A. A. Harris and W. D. Peterkin, members of Orange lodge No. 225, I. O. O. F., and J. M. McMurdy, member Santa Ana lodge No. 236, I. O. O. F.

Service At Grave
Burial services of the fraternal order were held at the grave, with C. E. Frost, noble grand of the Orange lodge, directing. The Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church of Santa Ana, a member of the local lodge, assisted in the services.

Smith and Tutthill today shipped the body of Frederick H.
Pleitner, one of the eight victims of the catastrophe to St. Louis, Mo. Miss Elizabeth Pleitner, a daughter, of Oakland, did not accompany the body east, but instead returned to her home in the northern city.

Tentative plans were being made today for funeral services to be held at the Smith and Tutthill chapel at 2 p. m. Saturday for Chris J. Ema. Confirmation of plans was expected to be made by a brother who was due to arrive here today from Grand Rapids, Mich. A sister of Mrs.
Thornton was expected to arrive here tomorrow from Cadillac, Michigan.

The bodies of Dr. J. G. Kelly,
E. H. Granger and the two Thornton children, Allen, 10, and David,
8, still were missing today.

2 Denver Fathers Accused of Aiding Sons' Delinquency

DENVER, June 11.—A charge of contributing to the delinquency of his son was filed against Charles Storm, 2182 South Lipan street, in a petition filed in the juvenile court. Juvenile court authorities say Storm whipped his son.
A petition seeking to place the custody of Gladys, Blanch, Camilla and Lawrence Kincaid under the custody of the juvenile court was filed by Lud C. Kincaid, who says a controversy exists between him and his wife, Ollie Kincaid.

Santa AnaASSERTED FUGITIVE GASOLINE STATION PAIR UNDER ARREST
IN DETROIT, OFFICERS TOLD

The arrest of John Saxon Porter and Leslie J. Graham, missing officials and promoters of the Dixie service stations, was announced here today in advices received from Detroit, Mich., where they were said to have been taken into custody several days ago.

Steps were taken immediately by the district attorney's office here to secure extradition of the two men, who are wanted in Orange county on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses and selling stock without a permit.

Porter and Graham were apprehended, it was said, through circulars sent out by Sheriff Sam Jernigan. It was known to the authorities, they said, that Porter had formerly lived in Detroit, and particular effort therefore was directed to the search in that city.

Say Identity Denied
Following his arrest, Porter, who was living under the name of Allen, was said to have denied his identity. According to information received here, he persisted in his denial until today, when definite word came to the local authorities that Porter was the man in custody.

Porter was president of Dixie Gasoline, Inc., the concern that had established service stations at various Southern California points, including one at Orange and another at Anaheim that had not been completed when a legal investigation overtook the project and put its promoters to flight. Graham was the Dixie manager at Anaheim. Approximately $15,000 in stock had been sold to Orange county residents, the investigation has revealed. According to complaints upon which the criminal charges are based, the promoters promised jobs to each purchaser of $500 worth of stock.

Apartment Raided
A purchase of that amount was supposed to carry a service station job at a salary of $135 per month. Purchasers of $1000 worth of stock were entitled to an assistant manager's post at a salary of $150 per month, while a $2000 purchase meant a $2000 job as manager of a service station, according to the representations reported to the authorities by stockholders.

When the investigation, initiated by the state corporation department, got under way, it was found that Porter, Vice-President Dawson, and other officials, including Graham, had quietly disappeared. A raid upon Graham's apartments in Anaheim gave the authorities possession of company books, which revealed the extent of operations in this county.

Requisition papers were being prepared today by District Attorney A. P. Nelson's office, to be forwarded to Sacramento for the signature of Governor Richardson, the first step in securing extradition of Porter and Graham from Michigan to California.

D. A. R. AND ELKS LODGE TO OBSERVE FLAG DAY THOUGH STORES HERE NOT TO CLOSE

Although Flag day in Santa Ana will be very much like any other day of the week, so far as business is concerned, it was definitely learned today, at least two organizations, Daughters of the American Revolution and Santa Ana Lodge No. 794, B. P. O. E., will formally pay tribute to the flag.

The Daughters of the American Revolution will have a speaker at each of the city schools to conduct services for a half hour tomorrow, while the Elks will participate in services to be held at Laguna Beach Saturday afternoon.

More than 100 members of the local Elks' lodge are expected to be in a section of a parade to be held in the beach city, beginning at 2 p. m., Saturday.

Erect Flag Pole.
W. W. Wasser, local secretary, said every effort would be made to have as many of the members of the local lodge as possible participate in the services. The Elks' tribute to the flag then will be paid with S. M. Reinhaus leading in that part of the exercises. The Elks' services will be conducted around a new flag pole that has been erected at Laguna Beach for the ceremonies.

The parade will be led by Capt. N. M. Holderman, of Santa Ana, who is a veteran of the famous "Lost Battalion." Capt. Holderman will also make the principal address.

Robert L. Brown, also of Santa Ana, will sing "The Americans Come."

The members of the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution who will speak at the schools here tomorrow are planning to tell the children about the flag, what it stands for and how it was originated, according to Mrs. John Clarkson, chairman of the D. A. R. Flag day committee. Exercises in the schools will begin at 11:30 a. m.

Speakers Listed.
Following are the members of the D. A. R. who will address the students: Junior college, Mrs. Eleanor Northcross; high school, Mrs. S. W. Stanley; Frances E. Willard junior high school and Jefferson school, Mrs. C. F. Smith; Spurgeon and Franklin schools, Mrs. E. M. Blake; Roosevelt, and Julia Lathrop junior high schools, Mrs. H. M. Sammis; Lincoln school, Miss Vanche Plumb; Lowell and McKinley schools, Miss Mary McFadden; John Muir school, Mrs. Clarkson. The Mexican schools closed yesterday.

The annual Flag day celebration of the D. A. R. here will not be held on June 14 this year, it was announced today, but will be held at Laguna Beach, June 21, at which time all members of the local chapter are expected to meet for an all-day session.

"DEAR JUDGE, HERE IS MY FINE LEVIED BY ME, $2";
"MAIL $8 MORE" IS REPLY.

ORANGE, June 12.—"Enclosed find $2 which I am sending you as my punishment for passing another machine at an intersection. As I am unable to attend your court I hope this will be acceptable, if not notify me at my Los Angeles address."

This was the main content of a letter received here today by Justice of the Peace G. W. Ingle from D. M. Cassidy of Los Angeles who was recently arrested for passing another machine at an intersection. At the time of his arrest Cassidy wanted to set his own fine and leave it in the mail box for the judge but the officer informed him that a personal interview would be more to the point.

Judge Ingle answered the letter of today with a missive stating that Cassidy was still owing the city $8 for the offense.

"It would be all right if the people who like to set their own fines would set them high enough, but when they don't it makes more trouble," Ingle said. He also declared that this was the first time anyone had tried to set his own fine in his court.

J. E. Barton of this city was fined $15 by Ingle this morning when he appeared to answer to charges of cutting in on the highway between Anaheim and Santa Ana. He was arrested by State Motorcycle Officer H. S. Warner.

'Love Nest' Case
Pair to Testify

With a murder prosecution engrossing the attention of the authorities today, the trial of G. E. Brookins, Anaheim printer, and Mrs. Adèle Wiley, on a statutory charge, was adjourned late yesterday by Superior Judge F. C. Drumm until Monday at 10 a. m. end of its case yesterday and had but one more witness to summon Monday, it was announced. The defense was scheduled to start presenting its testimony early Monday. Both defendants would testify, it was stated.

The couple were arrested in a raid by Newport Beach officers in an asserted "love nest" there.

Service Station
Site Owners Sue

Owners of the site at Broadway and Los Angeles streets, Anaheim, that was leased for a service station, were plaintiffs in a superior court action today to quiet title to the property.

Emma Grimstead, Mary Kraemer and Elenora Parker were plaintiffs in the case. They alleged that the rental of $25 per month, under which the site was leased, had not been paid.

A partially completed service station occupies the property. The station was abandoned, it was said, when officials of the company disappeared and criminal proceedings were brought against them.

Estate Letters Sought by Widow

The estate left by the late Aris Vander Bilt was vaulted at $5,000, according to a petition for letters of administration filed today in the superior court here by his widow, Maggie Vander Bilt of Santa Ana.

The estate consisted of an interest in livestock, notes, and a bank deposit at Fairview, S. D.

EXHIBITION DAY
AT H. S. LURE
TO PARENTS

With the "machinery" of every department operating at top speed and with scores of parents and friends of pupils present as interested visitors, the first Exhibition day program in the history of this Santa Ana high school was being held today.

The classes in every department were thrown open to the public and pupils this morning recited before large delegations of persons who came to see how the modern school is conducted.

Department heads were to be available all day so that conferences with parents could be held advantageously.

The house, economic, science, gymnasium, mechanical drawing and shops rooms were especially well attended during the morning periods.

A speed contest in typing was to be a feature of this afternoon's program. The art exhibit, comprising work done by the pupils in this department during the year, was scheduled to be opened at 2 o'clock. Science and domestic arts exhibits were scheduled to open at the same time.

Two fashion shows, one at 4 o'clock this afternoon and a second at 7:30 o'clock tonight, were expected to prove among the most interesting features of the entire day. A large number of pupils were to appear in these attractions. Special exhibits in manual arts, arts and sciences, in addition to a special music program in the music room, are on tonight's program.

25 VIOLATORS OF TRAFFIC LAWS HIT

Twenty-five arrested persons appeared before City Recorder W. F. Heathman during the past 24 hours.

Lewis F. Moulton, prominent El Toro rancher who recently entertained Heathman and more than 100 "old-timers" at his ranch in celebration of his fiftieth year in California, was fined $5 for parking his automobile overtime in the two-hour zone.

Attorney Charles D. Swanner was fined $5 for violating the parking ordinance.

Robert M. Sharp, charged with motoring 41 miles an hour on West Fifth street, paid $40 for the offense. Other alleged speeders, all of whom were fined $15 each, were C. A. Ranney, J. A. Cruz, F. D. Grandy, R. R. Peters, Eugene L. Field, W. M. Weeks, T. E. Topham and Mrs. G. Klidd.

Louis C. Casare paid $10 for driving his car without a muffler and Robert Yost handed the recorder $5 for driving with a noisy exhaust. It cost W. B. Yeagan $5 for turning his machine in the middle of the block.

J. A. Fitzpatrick and H. D. Traveller were fined $5 each for parking their cars overtime in the two-hour zone. W. E. Fields was assessed $2 for leaving his car on a downtown street overnight, and N. S. McCutcheon and H. J. Lowe paid $2 each for parking in the restricted district.

Youth Again Held
On Girl Charge

Facing a second charge of a statutory offense against a minor girl, Lupe Gallardo, 19 years old, was in the county jail here today. A 15-year-old Mexican girl is the complaining witness.

Gallardo several times has been in custody here on various charges and once before was arrested for an offense similar to the present, according to R. R. Miller, county probation officer.

A brother of the arrested youth gave him into the probation officer's custody, it was reported.

Judge George Avery today had returned to his home at Porterville, following a visit here yesterday with Paul Knauf. The visitor was accompanied by a friend, J. B. Hood. Avery and Knauf were members of a hunting party at Porterville last summer. A view of Santa Ana from the top of the six-story building of the First National bank was among pleasures the visitors enjoyed while Knauf's guests.

Neal H. Edgar, former motor car dealer of Santa Ana, is at Balboa to remain until Sunday. He is now proprietor of the Tulare hotel at Tulare, Cal. Mrs. Edgar has been at Balboa for three weeks arranging the Edgar Bungalow court for the summer season.

To spend the summer months on the Great Lakes, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Smith and their daughter, of 1717 North Broadway, will leave Santa Ana June 15. They will go via the Grand Canyon and will visit other places of interest en route.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Prentice, 205 Birch street, left here yesterday for a two months' automobile trip to Vancouver, B. C.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Shugart visited Mr. and Mrs. John Berger at Glendale Sunday.

Mrs. F. W. Wiesseman and her daughters, the Misses Violet and Helen, of 2025 North Broadway are planning to leave Wednesday for the East. Mrs. Wiesseman and Helen will make their headquarters at Buffalo, N. Y., where Mrs. Wiesseman's people reside. Miss Violet will go to Boston, where she will attend the national convention of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority. The length of Mrs.

Wiesseman's stay is indefinite, but Miss Violet will return in time to take up her duties as teacher in the junior high school in September.

Mrs. W. C. Wieland of 2100 South Sycamore street has returned from the Glendale sanitarium, where she has been for the past two weeks.

Frank McDonald of Garfield street left yesterday over the Santa Fe for a trip to Chicago.

Mrs. Clyde Gates of 726 Orange avenue left this morning for a trip to Larned, Kans., to visit her parents. She traveled via the Santa Fe and plans to be absent from six to eight weeks.

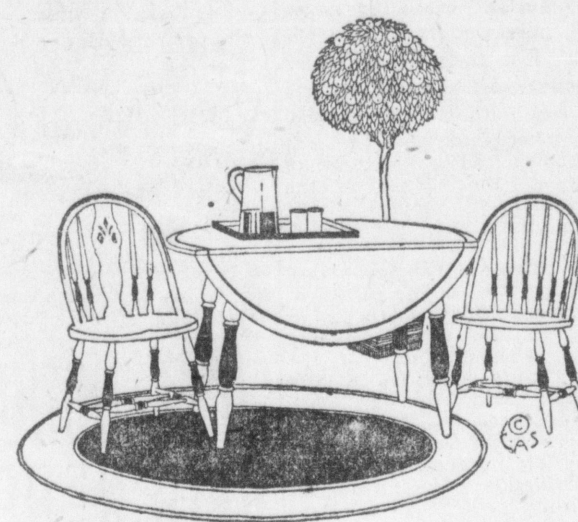

Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Childs and two babies, who have been here since last fall visiting Mr. Childs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Childs of 1054 West Fifth street, left yesterday on their return trip to their home in Willoughby, Ohio. They were Santa Fe passengers.

Mrs. O. F. Hampton of 2220 North Main street is enjoying a visit from her sisters, Mrs. J. W. Martin of Moundsville, W. Va., and Mrs. John Krim and daughter, Miss Helen Krim of Wheeling, O., who plan to remain here two months. Miss Helen Krim will spend the week-end with friends at Pomona college.

Dr. and Mrs. Rodney Atsatt and little son, Stuart, arrived this morning by automobile from their home in San Francisco. They will go to Claremont Saturday to attend the alumni banquet of Pomona college, of which Dr. and Mrs. Atsatt are graduates. Dr. Atsatt will return north Sunday, while Mrs. Atsatt and little son will visit Mrs. Atsatt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Smith of 916 French street, through July.

John Cribben, his daughter, Mrs. Clarence Skiles and niece, Miss Margaret Ore, Miss Ore's mother, Mrs. Margaret Warne, Miss Pauline Parsons, Mrs. Florence Smith and her daughter, Miss Minna Smith, made a party of Santa nans who sailed from San Francisco yesterday for a trip to the Hawaiian islands.

Furniture—the Gift that Lasts

FURNITURE is the ideal gift for many occasions. For birthdays, weddings, engagements, anniversaries or house-warmings, furniture is the gift supreme because it is beautiful in itself and it is a true expression of the giver's thoughtfulness. Moreover, it is a gift to the whole family. A gate-leg table, a tea cart or sewing cabinet—an attractive lamp or a comfortable chair—these are gifts worth giving and gifts heartily welcomed, not only by newly married folk, but by all who have a love for a beautiful home. Furniture is the gift that lends continual pleasure through the years, and it is ever a happy reminder of the giver.

"You can meet with Triumph or Disaster and treat those two imposters just the same"

Kipling had an idea that time.

How do you take a financial 'set-up,' for instance? Do you go in for a reckless 'celebration'? Or do you think ahead to the time when you may need every cent you can find and "celebrate" by adding to your Savings Account?

If you do that and keep right on building, dollar by dollar, you needn't worry about that other imposter, "Disaster."

BEFORE TWINS WERE BORN

Was Very Miserable. Felt Lots Better After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wyoecna, Wis.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my twins were born because my sister used it and recommended it to me. I was so ill I could scarcely go about my daily work. I was in such misery. But after I began taking these little bottles I was feeling lots better. I took three bottles and a half before I was confined and finished the bottle while I was in bed. I got up feeling fine and have taken care of the twins alone ever since. I recommend the Vegetable Compound highly and will sing its praises in the future."

Mrs. Ida Gebitz, Wyoecna, Wis. It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in a weakened and run-down condition after childbirth, and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. Not only is it hard for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother both before and after childbirth. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and can be taken in safety by nursing mothers.

Pleasant Surprises Honor Two Members Of Nielsen Home

The Nielsen home at 916 East Pine street, has been the scene of two pleasant social events recently, each coming as a surprise to members of the family who were honored.

The first was a handkerchief shower when many lovely bits of linen and lawn fell to the fortunate lot of Mrs. Anna Nielsen, whose birthday was so pleasantly recognized by members of the Trinity Lutheran church.

White Shrine Will Install Officers

Saturday night, June 14, will bring an important event to Masonic auxiliary circles when the local order of the White Shrine will be constituted at the Masonic temple with important state officers of the order to conduct the ceremony.

The charter of the new chapter was received early in the week from Cleveland, Ohio, and immediately plans were rushed to a conclusion to hold the important meeting Saturday. California's new supreme queen, Mrs. Emma Wisner of Hollywood, will install the officers, Ernest Elwood Ford, supreme watchman of the shepherd, will conduct the ceremonies. His presence will seem most appropriate since he instituted the chapter a few weeks ago. Mrs. H. Clay Kellogg will be installed as president.

All ceremonies will be public and a general invitation has been extended other Masonic orders and friends to be present. Through the co-operation of the young men of the Order of De Molay and their sponsor, J. C. Cogan, the Shrine will be enabled to have the correct meeting dates of first and third Saturdays in the month, the De Molays taking the necessary steps to relinquish those dates and take instead the second and fourth Saturday nights.

Many local White Shrine members attended Fullerton chapter meeting last night and heard with much interest, the report on the supreme shrine offered by the Fullerton high priestess, Mrs. Emily T. Warren who was in attendance.

Missionary Society

The annual "Mite Box" meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church was held at the manse yesterday afternoon. During a short business meeting the president, Mrs. H. A. Allen, gave a report from the recent Presbyterian held in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Allan caused a wave of happy anticipation to float over the gathering, when she invited the society to her mountain cabin at Forest Home, for the July meeting, and extended a cordial invitation to all who desired to do so, to bring their camping outfit, and spend the night in her yard there.

Mrs. E. P. Stafford was chairman of the program for the afternoon. Mrs. W. E. Roberts had charge of the devotionals and read a part of the fifth chapter of Galatians, using as the basis of her remarks, the verses, showing the "Fruit of the Spirit," and bringing out many helpful ideas on this subject.

Miss Dorothy Sammis sweetly sang, "Savior Hear Us When We Pray," accompanied on the piano by Miss Ruth Gardiner. The foreign topic, "The Philippines" was ably discussed by Dr. George W. Wright of Manila, who is president of the Union Theological seminary, and director of the Ellwood dormitory for young men. Dr. Wright, who went out to the islands in 1903, told of many difficulties encountered at that time, in the training of young men for the ministry, which have now been eliminated. He drew a very vivid picture of the religious conditions of the islands, and told of the wonderful work of Dr. and Mrs. Jansen, among the lepers. A large number of the latter have been cured, and have returned to their homes.

Dr. Wright closed with kindly words for General Leonard Wood, ignoring every thing of a political nature, but stating his work among the lepers, and his great help along many lines for the betterment of the Philippine islands.

Dr. Wright was accompanied by his young son, Billie, who came with his little satchel packed with curios that he thought might be of interest to the ladies.

The social committee served delicious strawberry ice, with home made cakes. The mite boxes contained over fifty dollars.

Sunday School Class

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Imms were hospitable hosts Tuesday night to members of the Three G class of the United Brethren Sunday school who gathered at their home, 1332 West Third street for a pleasant social affair.

Lively games were introduced and after an evening of friendly pleasures, Mrs. Imms served an appetizing little refreshment menu. Enjoying the evening with the hosts were the Rev. Logan Harter, pastor of the church and Sunday school superintendent, and Mrs. Harter; O. M. Harrison, class teacher and president, and Mrs. Harrison together with their children, Mabel and Charles, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Noble and son Keyes, Mrs. Gammell, Mrs. Thorpe, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Colby of Tustin.

News Notes of Interest To Women

S. B. A.

Security Benefit association members were enthusiastic about the pleasant affair sponsored last night at M. W. A. hall by a host group of the lodge who entertained the woman members.

Each officer's station was found adorned with a great cluster of spicy carnations and at the refreshment hour late in the evening, flowers decked the tables. Mrs. Fleta Lippencot was the fortunate winner of a pretty prize by the clever system which the men instituted.

Two candidates were initiated with due ceremony. At the supper hour, sandwiches, pickles, cakes and coffee were served and the members enjoyed the refreshments they were enthusiastic in their praise of the entertainment offered by the committee, Messrs. Metz, Burrell, Dukes, McCammon and Purvis.

Children Will Aid In Mission Work

"Should a small person with big eyes, knock at your door between 3 and 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and present a cardboard elephant for your investigation and approval, think twice before refusing to examine the offering," today suggested Mrs. D. J. Palmer, superintendent of the King's Heralds of the First M. E. church as she outlined the reasons for the appeal the youngsters would make.

It seems that the children have interested themselves in little people who are less fortunate than they and are endeavoring to raise funds toward the building of a suitable school at Rangoon, Burma, to care for the countless little Burmese children who are eager for Christian training. At present a school is being maintained by the American missionaries in a shabby and poorly constructed building which cannot accommodate a fraction of the number of children eagerly seeking admission.

Plans for America's fortunate children to aid in giving them a suitable building with a staff of teachers and physicians, are being worked out by the elephant team, the elephant being chosen because of its importance in the life and development of Burma. The ornamental howdah which the elephant carries, can accommodate six dimes and of such trifles are schools erected and mission work founded and continued.

There will be at least fifteen of the small King's Heralds of the local church who will take part in the "elephant drive" Saturday afternoon.

THIEVES GET LOOT SAID WORTH $200

Burglars stole an electric sewing machine, an electric vacuum cleaner, a musical instrument and several articles of jewelry between 7:30 and 9 p. m. yesterday from the home of B. H. Rowley, 1720 North Bush street, it was reported today at police headquarters.

Using a passkey, the thieves entered the house by a rear door, and left through the front door, according to officers who investigated the robbery. Burnt matches strewn about the house furnished the only clue to the police.

The carpet cleaner was valued at $72 and the sewing machine at $65, according to Rowley. The burglars stole a guitar worth at least $15, he said, and a gold watch valued at $25, a child's signet ring worth about $2, a pair of Chinese cuff links worth $5 and miscellaneous trinkets valued at less than $5. The entire loot was valued at approximately $200.

The police believe the robbers must have had an automobile to convey the stolen goods, although neighbors who were questioned stated they had seen no car or truck in front of the Rowley residence last night.

SLEW TIGER WITH BARE HANDS, CLAIM

LONDON, June 10.—The last of the real South African Bushmen, who probably is the oldest man in the world, is coming to London to see the king. His name is "Syria".

"Syria" lives at Johannesburg, and although he is more than 120 years old—how much more he doesn't know—he is still adventurous enough to set forth across the ocean, upon a promise that he will see the king and the British empire exhibition.

"Syria" in his time was a mighty man. He lived in a hut and hunted tigers. He decided he would marry the daughter of a chief, but the chief said only a very brave man could marry his daughter—only a man who could go into the jungles and catch and kill a tiger with his bare hands. That's what "Syria" did—more than 100 years ago.

Convict Autoist Of Three Deaths

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—Guy M. Woods, charged with manslaughter will be sentenced Saturday, following his conviction by a jury which returned a verdict last night in each of three counts. Woods was found guilty for the death of Mrs. Julia Sherman, Cecil George and Miss Gladys Lewis in an automobile accident west of Pasadena on February 18.

Northern Honeymoon For Happy Couple Wedded Sunday

Letters have been received by local friends of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Whitman who are honeymooning in San Francisco, telling of the pleasures of their motor trip north following the quiet simplicity of the early morning wedding last Sunday, which united Mr. Whitman and Miss Bernice Ramsey, daughter of J. N. Ramsey, North Main street.

The nuptial ceremony was at the parsonage home of the Rev. Will A. Betts of the First Methodist church at 8 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Ramsey was the sole guest aside from the bridal party.

Miss Ramsey, a lovely and vivacious brunette, was in bridal white, choosing crepe de chine and a becoming picture hat bearing white hand-made flowers. The sole touch of color given her costume was the armful of sweet peas she wore, which were a deep pink, combined with baby's breath and maidenhair fern.

Miss Jessie Carls in a dainty bride's maid frock of apricot swiss was her attendant. Miss Carls' costume was completed by a white leghorn hat bearing pastel tinted flowers, and an arm bouquet of lavender sweet peas. Mr. John Mills served Mr. Whitman as best man.

Following the ceremony, the happy couple returned to the Ramsey home, accompanied by a little group of friends who gathered to extend happy wishes and shower them with rice and old shoes for good luck. The newlyweds soon left on their motor honeymoon northward, Mrs. Whitman wearing a clever little suit and hat of rust Canton crepe. Upon their return they will make their home in this city and Mr. Whitman will resume his work at Huntington Beach where he is connected with an oil company.

His bride, like himself, is a native of Walla Walla, Wash., where their romance began. Mr. Whitman, a year and a half and as book-keeper at the Orange County Trust and Savings bank, has made a host of warm friends whose good wishes are being showered on her and her husband.

JAPANESE APPROVE 2ND ARMS PARLEY

OSAKA, Japan, June 12.—Commenting on the proposals for the convocation of a second international disarmament conference, proposed in the American senate and house of representatives, Japanese papers pay a high tribute to the courage with which America works for the cause of peace. The "Tokio Nichi-nichi" says: "If other powers inwardly desire to take lead in proposing such an assembly they lack either the courage or the courage to do so. It may well be said in these circumstances that no country in the world is more courageous than America in trying to realize lofty ideals."

"The Washington conference achieved a great deal in stopping the needless race in naval construction, thereby laying the foundation of international peace, but it stopped short of the mark. It failed to put an effective end to naval rivalry and to the mutual jealousies of naval powers."

"What causes grave concern to the thinking public of the world is that by taking advantage of the defects of the naval treaty, the naval powers which are signatory to the pact are secretly planning naval expansion. They are deliberately framing up the fundamental spirit of the treaty. This state of things makes it of paramount importance that steps should be taken to widen the scope of the application of the Washington treaty and to stop all schemes such as can be constructed in any way as attempts to expand naval strength."

"An international disarmament conference would be of little avail, however, if the powers concerned do not show greater sincerity in taking up the cause of armament reduction. Indeed, if they had been sincere enough, the Washington treaty, standing alone, would serve the desired purpose. It is true that the pact is for the limitation of the construction of capital ships exclusively, but there can be no doubt that its true spirit is to put a stop to naval competition generally."

"It is, of course, important that a second disarmament conference should be convened, but it must be preceded by the improved political and economical situation of the world, particularly of Europe. It is urgent to revise the covenant of the League of Nations so as to make that body a safeguard of international peace in fact as well as in name. International disarmament can best be attained by developing the League of Nations."

Piano Recital

Continuing her series of pupil recitals, Miss Carolyn Haughton on Tuesday night presented a second group of young piano students at a very interesting recital at Chandler's Music house. The music room was filled with an appreciative audience of parents and friends of those on the program who included Bobby Brown, William Howell, Myrtle Illingworth, Karl Gerhardt, Chas. Adams, Robert Northcross, Veda Mitchell, Florence Thompson, Vera May Smith, Helen Drake, Eugenia Gilbert, Eleanor Crook, Ruth Breckenridge, Woodrow Covington, Louise Van Dien, Grace Getty, Grace Hoshell and Louise Walker.

Newcomers' Night To Be Celebrated

Putting into effect an interesting plan to further the friendliness of the community, R. C. Smedley of the Y. M. C. A. told today of the Newcomers' Night which the social committee of the Y will sponsor next Thursday night, June 19, from 8 to 10 o'clock.

"Anyone who has lived in the city no longer than two or three years may be classed as newcomers and as such will be established a cordial welcome and given the opportunity to find congenial friends," declared Mr. Smedley in outlining the plan to present a very brief entertaining program consisting largely of musical numbers, to be followed by a social hour and refreshments.

All such recent comers, both men and women will be greeted by a host committee and introduced right and left so that familiarity may be forgotten and a friendly atmosphere maintained. Assisting in the plans are Charles H. Chapman, chairman of the social committee and Marian Warren, vice chairman. Many old residents of the city will be present to aid in the "get-acquainted" plan.

Ohio Folk to Resume Summer Activities

June has stirred the blood of Orange county Buckeyes and recalled to them the pleasures of last year's mid-summer picnic at Orange county park, with the result that the president, H. J. Forgy, has called a meeting of his executive board for tonight at 7:30 o'clock at his office in the old First National bank building, to discuss plans for summer activities.

The result of the board's deliberations and discussions will no doubt be of interest to hundreds of loyal Ohioans scattered throughout the county, and all will await the announcement of the next big general meeting with a great deal of interest. Plans discussed late last summer were for a day at Catalina, but whether that plan will be put into effect, remains to be seen.

Aid Society

Yesterday afternoon at the parish hall of St. Peter Lutheran church, the Aid society held a most interesting meeting with the Rev. George F. Pauechert, leading the devotionals and also presenting the chief talk of the afternoon on "Inner Mission."

A report of the Federated Aid society meeting at Long Beach was read and it was decided to aid in the support of Miss Ida Hosler, a mission worker in Los Angeles. Mrs. W. Marten was received into membership into the society.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. A. Sandow and Mrs. J. Bayha. At the next meeting to be held July 9, Mrs. L. Anderson and Mrs. S. Anderson will be co-hostesses and will entertain at the home of the former on North Baker street, at an evening meeting beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Dorcas Society

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Mrs. Ray Canterbury and Mrs. C. E. Prior will entertain the Dorcas society of the First M. E. church at the Canterbury home, 507 South Flower street.

SLOT MACHINES OBJECTIVE OF LOCAL 'WAR'

War on slot machines, punch boards and other games of chance said to be operating in several Santa Ana business places, today had taken concrete form.

At a general committee meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. last night, a committee to represent the "Y" was appointed to act with a committee recently appointed by the Santa Ana Ministerial association to investigate city, county and state laws to determine whether criminal action could be employed in banishing such gaming devices from the city.

On the committee appointed last night are Harry W. Lewis and Charles H. Chapman, who are under instructions to meet with the Rev. W. E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and the Rev. Moffett Rhodes, pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial church, representing the ministerial association. No definite time for the meeting of the two committees, it was stated, has been set.

A private investigation of legal conditions has been made, it was learned, by at least one Y. M. C. A. official, according to R. C. Smedley, "Y" secretary, say no laws regulating the operation of games of chance as they exist here are now in effect. It will be the purpose of the two committees, Smedley added, to co-operate with city and county officials to see if city, county and state laws could be made effective in handling the situation objected to by the local organizations.

Unable to Learn How Man Known Here Met Death

Whether N. G. Dygert, 26, nephew of Guy J. Gilbert of this city and wireless operator on the Standard Oil tanker John D. Archbold, was murdered by someone on board and his body thrown into the sea or whether he was washed overboard, may be decided Sunday when the vessel reaches Balboa, Panama, it was learned here today.

Dygert, who often visited Santa Ana and who was known to a number of Gilbert's friends, was last seen in the operating room of the tanker Sunday evening while the ship was en route to New York from San Pedro.

It is not likely that results of an investigation into Dygert's mysterious disappearance will be learned here before Sunday night, as the missing man was said to be the only wireless operator on the tanker, and no port from which messages could be sent will be reached before Sunday.

W. C. T. U.

Meeting Tuesday afternoon at the United Presbyterian church, the city W. C. T. U. held an interesting session directed by Mrs. Tibball and with Mrs. Fanny Lash leading devotional services with the twenty-seventh Psalm as the basis of her talk.

A delightful program was presented by Mexican children from Artesia and Logan schools with their teachers, Miss Edith M. Ritter and Miss Edith J. Bohannon, principals of the schools. The children sang choruses and solos and gave pleasing recitations to the deep interest of the W. C. T. U. members. Miss Ritter and Miss Bohannon talked of their work and answered many questions regarding it.

At the business meeting plans were completed for the picnic to be held at Orange county park jointly with Orange and Tustin unions, on Tuesday June 24. As first planned the picnic was to have been June 26, so members are asked to note the date carefully. J. A. Cranston was tendered a vote of thanks for his recent action in the interests of the young people. At the same time protests were entered against a certain class of motion pictures being shown in the city and against the Balboa beach parade which is an annual event. In a motion picture protest "Yankee Madness" was declared objectionable.

Will M. Cressy at the REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

By WILL M. CRESSY

Illustrated by George Storm.
Somehow there does not seem to be that wild, unrestrained enthusiasm at this convention that I expected. All these investigation things seem to have dampened our ardor. It is mighty hard to be an enthusiastic politician when there are two detectives to every politician.

I noticed it in Washington. Why, do you know, you can not find in the city of Washington today a Republican official living in a house that has got green blinds on it?

And all our Senators and Congressmen and Cabinet Officials are using Hood's Sarsaparilla in their motor cars because they don't dare to be seen using gasoline, oil or alcohol?

They do not even dare to cash their salary checks without the endorsement of three high Democratic officials.

The Portland (Ore.) boys are all

"OWN YOUR OWN HOME" TALK SERIES AIMED BY "Y" HERE AS FEATURE FOR EACH WEEK

Beginning Monday at 7:30 and continuing each week, a course of practical talks on "Own Your Own Home" will be given at the Y. M.
C. A. building, according to an announcement made today by Ralph C. Smedley, local secretary, who stated the meetings would be open, without charge, to all men and women of the county who are interested in the problems of home ownership.

Following is the program for the first meeting: "Why Locate in Santa Ana," J. P. Baumgartner;
"Owning versus Renting," and
"Why Own Your Own Home," A.
V. Napier; "How to Finance the Project," Harry Hansen; "The

lace.

Each speaker will have twenty minutes to present his topic, Smedley stated, and there will be time for questions and discussion.

2 AUTOISTS HURT IN S. A. CRASHES

Two persons were injured in automobile accidents in Santa Ana yesterday.

M. I. Humphrey, 602 North Parson street, sustained a lacerated face and was badly shaken when the automobile in which he was riding and which was driven by Aretha M. Hart, 1615 West Fourth street, collided with the car driven by M. A. Crippen of San Diego.

The accident occurred at 6:30 a.
m. today at the corner of Fourth and Parson streets. The crash was said to have resulted because the sun was shining brightly, blinding the driver of the Hart automobile.

Both automobiles were damaged.
S. F. Walton, who lives on Hathaway street, while walking across the intersection at Fourth and Main streets yesterday noon, was struck by an automobile driven by J.
Schneider, 69, of Anaheim. Walton was taken to his home by Officer Earl Lentz, who reported that the man's left leg was injured.

ASKS COURT TO RETURN PLANE HELD CHAINED

T. C. Ryan, Los Angeles aviator, and Robert Wardlow, Westminster rancher, today were squaring away for the third round in their skirmish over an airplane and what it did to a peaceful rural scene in Orange county.

Each had a previous round to his credit. Ryan won the first when his airplane crashed unexpectedly into Wardlow's alfalfa field recently, and ruined it, it is claimed, an otherwise perfect pastoral setting.
The plane, it was said, dug out a goodly portion of the alfalfa, caused a team to run away and to smash a fence, besides nearly running down two amazed women spectators.

Then another plane, coming to see what happened, landed near the fence and reports have it, added more territory to the destructed area. "Thus the first round went to the airman on points."

Wardlow, however, was by no means "out," though staggering under the blow. He came back strong in the second round and delivered a stiff jolt to the aviator.
When compensation for his damaged alfalfa and fence was not forthcoming, Wardlow seized the disabled airplane and attached it firmly to his ranch by means of log chains.

It was Wardlow's round by a clear margin.

The third round opened late yesterday in the superior court here with Ryan again taking the offensive. He filed a suit against Wardlow to recover possession of the plane, on which he placed a value of $500. Attorneys Kelby and Lawson of Los Angeles represent him in the action.

Wardlow, it was understood, would come back into the ring for the third round, with an attorney in his corner.

Further Modify 'Quarantine On Area in County

Modifications made in quarantine regulations in Orange county were announced today in letters mailed to members of the farm bureau.
"Regulations are virtually eliminated," the letter states, "on all territory except that under federal quarantine, which is that territory south of the Santa Ana river."

It was announced that in territory outside of the federal quarantine area, "feed may be delivered to the barn with the owner's consent and in fact all restrictions are removed except the moving of ma-nures and clovenfooted animals."

According to A. M. Stanley, secretary manager, his understanding is that the ban on the federal quarantine area may be lifted within a few days, possibly within the next two weeks.

For the past seven days there has been no new outbreaks.

Pastors Groom S. A. For 1925 S. S. Convention

The Rev. H. G. Burgess, pastor of the Richland-avenue Methodist church and representative of the Santa Ana Ministerial association, left here today for Gardena to attend the annual Mexican Sunday school convention, which convenes in that city for three days.

He will extend an invitation to the convention with its 600 attendants, to hold its 1925 meeting in Santa Ana according to the Rev.
Moffett Rhodes, president of the association.

The convention this year was to have been held in Santa Ana, the Rev. Rhodes explained, but was postponed on account of the typhoid epidemic early this year. The convention is composed of the Sunday schools of all Spanish speaking Protestant churches of Southern California.

The Rev. B. E. Garcia, pastor of the Santa Ana Mexican Methodist Episcopal church, also was to attend the convention.

WIDEN INQUIRY TO HALT L. A. FIRE MENACE

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—Continuing its investigation of the Hope Development school fire, the grand jury was today hearing several other witnesses before framing a report in which responsibility for the blaze will be placed.

The probe is now in its second week. Branching from the investigation of the Hope school tragedy alone, the inquisitorial body has also gone into the matter of hazardous schools and homes throughout the county, with a probability that demands for definite action to eliminate the fire danger will be made.

Governor Richardson and members of the state board of control are expected to come here and consult with grand jurors and county officials over the situation, with a probability a definite demand that the state act to eliminate the fire hazard in the local institution will result.

DECLARE 'WISE FOOLS' PLAY DELIGHTFUL

With the presentation this evening of "Three Wise Fools" at the Temple theater the Santa Ana Community Players will close their fourth season in a highly successful manner.

It is the opinion of those who have witnessed the performance of "Three Wise Fools" that it is the most wholesome and altogether delightful play that has been offered by the Players this season.

The season opened with a thrilling mystery, "The Thirteenth Chair," followed by "R. U. R.," an ultra-modern melodrama. Then came "Dulcy," a social satire and finally "Three Wise Fools," a sparkling American comedy with a wholesome universal appeal.

At tonight's performance, beginning at 8:15 o'clock, the entire ac-tural numbers to be presented by two of Mme. Manuela Budrow's music pupils, the Misses Ruth Madlener and Elizabeth Siegel, will be accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong, taking the place of Earl Fraser, who has accompanied Mme. Budrow's pupils at the three earlier presentations but who was called from the city today on business.

Flute obligatoes to the numbers will be played by M. R. Siegel.

made during the winter, Leon Ev-raud of San Juan Hot Springs, stated here today that the road to has been prohibited by foot and mouth quarantine regulations, he explained.

Cottages, tents and camping facilities will be more plentiful than in past seasons, he said. Dancing every Saturday evening has been scheduled as one of the amusement features for the resort.

'Y' TO FOSTER SANTA ANANS' RADIO CLUB

A meeting for all radio fans of Santa Ana has been called for Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Y. M. C. A. building, according to an announcement made today by Ralph C. Smedley, local secretary, who stated that the meeting would be held for the purpose of organizing a permanent radio club, through which discussion of various sets and improvements could be had from time to time.

The first meeting will be held for the purpose of determining Santa Ana's interest in radio and to lay plans for radio work this summer. The meeting is called by the educational committee of the Y. M. C. A. Smedley stated, and will be open to boys 15 years old and older, and men who are interested.

Walter J. Ferris of the educational committee will have charge of the meeting and will lead discussions on the various styles of radio sets. It is the hope of the committee that enough interest would be aroused to continue the club throughout the year. Plans have been made to construct a large radio receiving set to be installed later in the patio of the Y. M. C. A. building. All radio fans are being urged to attend the first meeting.

EMPLOYED OFFICERS OF 'Y' MEETING HERE

The quarterly meeting of the Employed Officers' club of Y. M. C. A. men in Southern California opened here today with more than fifty members. Plans for the year's work were to be made and reports of the national Y. M. C. A. convention, which was held recently at Blue Ridge, N. C., were to be heard.

Camp programs, together with plans for physical education also are scheduled for discussion.

S. A. Y. OFFICIALS EXPECTED AT GOOD WILL MEETING

Several officials of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. are expected to attend a meeting of the Pacific conference of International good will, which will be held at the Pacific palisades auditorium, Santa Monica, for three days beginning June 23, R. C. Smedley, secretary here, declared today.

The purpose of the meeting, Smedley explained, is to coordinate the efforts of agencies working toward international good will.

BUTTONS TO BE AWARDED SWIMMERS AT 'Y'

Bronze and silver buttons have been offered boys of the Y. M. C. A. who learn to swim sufficiently to pass several tests. This was announced here today by R. R. Ruseick, physical director, who said beginners who learn to swim the distance of the pool will be given a bronze button and boys who qualify by learning two dives and three swimming strokes will be awarded silver buttons. Boys who pass life saving tests will be given silver watch fobs.

The awarding of prizes was approved by the physical work committee of the 'Y,' which held its initial meeting recently. The committee formed no regular schedule for summer activities, it was stated, but set the formal opening for winter sports in the gymnasium for October 1.

Do not miss Wiesseman's Saturday. Better come early. Something doing.

P. E. Cuts Fare to Resort Here Over Week Ends

The Pacific Electric Railway company announced here today that an average reduction of more than thirty-three and one-third per cent in week-end summer fares to resorts on its lines, would be made effective Saturday. The lower rates prevail on Saturday and Sunday with a return limit on the Monday following the date of sale.

As an illustration, the fare from Garden Grove to Balboa was cut from $1.95, regular, to $1.25. An even cut of $1 is made from Redlands to Balboa, the regular price being $4 and the week-end fare being $3.

From Santa Ana to Long Beach and San Pedro the regular fare is $1.68, with week-end rates of $1. From this city to Redondo and the group of resorts in that vicinity, the reduced rate is $1.25, as against the regular fare of $2.20. The same charges obtain from Orange, Fullerton and Garden Grove.

KIWANIS PLANS MEMORIAL TO TRAGEDY MEN

Plans had been completed today by the Santa Ana Kiwanis club for memorial services to be held at the First Baptist church, the night of Sunday, June 22, for H. Newton Thornton, architect, and Chris J. Ena, tailor, members of the club who lost their lives by the swamping of the Adieu Sunday near the entrance to Orange county harbor.

The Rev. W. H. L. Benton, pastor of the church of the Messiah, will preach the memorial sermon. The Rev. Otto S. Russell, pastor of the Baptist church, will assist in the services.

Members of the club will attend the services in a body and will be accompanied by their wives and women friends.

Arrangements for the memorial were announced at the meeting of the club yesterday at St. Ann's inn. Out of respect for the two deceased members, no program was given. The session was quiet and only necessary announcements were made. Virtually all the members were to attend the funeral of Thornton this afternoon.

President R. R. Miller announced that Mr. and Mrs. George R. Wells and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Knox, Ray Chandler, A. E. Noe, L. H. Shute and himself would attend the convention of Kiwanis International opening at Denver Monday. Shute, former manager for the Crown stage here, is living at Denver.

With other clubs of the nation, the Santa Ana club will meet Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock and carry out a fifteen minute program designated by the International officials. Known as "zero hour" meetings, the clubs will convene at an hour when Edmund F. Arras, president of International, will broadcast from Denver a message to the 80,000 Kiwanians within the jurisdiction of the International. The local club will meet at Julia C. Lathrop junior high school and following the program will have dinner at the cafeteria. After dinner, a special program will be given. The latter will be entirely local.

It was disclosed at yesterday's meeting that directors of the club had arranged for the club to become sponsor of the Boy Scout troop at the juvenile home. Fred Blauer, A. N. Zernan, Charles Walker, Fred Newcomb and R. B. Newcom were named as the Boy Scout committee.

BERNARD SHAW FIGHTS WITH CHURCHILL

LONDON, June 12.—George Bernard Shaw vs. Winston Churchill.

A battle royal in words between these two contentants has gone two rounds of 3000 words each, with no decision except the full approval of the English reading public of the entertainment offered.

Churchill, who has been a rather consistent baiter of the Socialists since labor took office and who was recently defeated for parliament on an anti-Socialist ticket, opened the attack and Shaw jumped into the fray with the greatest of pleasure.

The battle was fought in the columns of a Sunday newspaper. Churchill broke into print first with a denunciation of the Socialist program.

Shaw countered with the following jab from the shoulder: "One of the facts that threaten the continued existence of this happy-go-lucky nation is that it is possible for so distinguished a member of its governing class as Mr. Winston Churchill to write about Socialism at this time of day like an extremely decayed gentleman in an inaccessible remote village in a prehistorically backward district of Poland."

Churchill lunged with a dash into economics and declared that if there were less work, shorter hours and longer vacation, he couldn't understand why the Socialists held that there would be more to distribute among the workers.

"No doubt he does not understand the apparent miracle, but it happens," countered Shaw. "The history of organized labor for the last hundred years has been one of higher wages, shorter hours, less work, longer holidays and greatly increased product."

"But that proves only that our capitalists, when they were given carte blanche to exploit the working classes ruthlessly, could not even that job properly and had to be forced by our factory legislation to stop killing the geese that laid the golden eggs and using up nine generations of men in one generation. It is clear that the formula will not work beyond a certain point. Let me, therefore, amend it by a Socialist addition or two. First, get rid of idlers and slackers, rich and poor, and we did during the war. Then take all the labor that is being wasted on the idlers and employ it productively."

"If Mr. Churchill cannot understand why this should result in less work, shorter hours and longer holidays for everybody, then it is his understanding, that is at fault and not Socialism." Up to now Shaw has the advantage of having struck the last blow, but nobody imagines that Churchill is through. This battle promises to run into a million words or more, and then probably will only be stopped by laryngitis or an ink drought.

"YESTERDAY'S WIFE" AT TEMPLE TOMORROW

Fresh from the big picture shops that turn out the master productions for the big film houses comes "Yesterday's Wife," a thrilling and intensely dramatic story that was a sensation when published in magazine form. This original story from Evelyn Campbell's pen has been directed by one of the most celebrated of the country's picture directors, namely, Edward J. LaSaint, who has made possible some of the biggest screen successes of recent years.

It is acted by an all-star cast that radiates a million dollars' worth of talent. In the splendid playing cast appear Irene Rich, Eileen Percy, Lottie Williams, Josephine Crowell, Lewis Taylor, Philo McCullough and William Scott. This big film comes to the Temple theater for three days beginning tomorrow.

LEWIS STONE HEADS CAST OF "CYTHEREA"

What should a man do, if spurred by the romance of spring, he wants to take his wife on a second "honeymoon" in Cuba, and she refuses? That was the situation confronting Leo Randon, the hero of "Cytherea," the current picture feature at the Yost theater. "Don't be silly," was her calm retort when he broached the subject. "I've got the house and the children to take care of. And, anyway, it's a foolish idea, in my opinion."

But the man did go to Cuba—but not with his wife. Hurt by her lack of sentiment, he was a ready victim for Cupid when a woman who represented his ideal in every manner, came into his life.

The manner in which the two seekers after happiness solved the situation which kept them tied down to an intolerable situation, their adventures in Cuba, and the disillusionment which came afterward, constitute a drama such as only the author, Joseph Hergesheimer, could write.

Lewis S. Stone and Irene Rich are cast as the husband and wife, with Alma Rubens in the role of Cytherea.

"DAN MCGREW" FEATURE CLOSES TONIGHT

In addition to the tremendous popular appeal which marks "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," the picture which closes tonight at Walker's theater, movie fans will receive the thrill of their lives in watching the spectacular fire scenes which constitute one of the many big punches of the production.

There is a fight in a New York cabaret between Percy Marmont as Jim, the Husband, and Lew Cody, as Dangerous Dan McGrew, over the Lady known as Lou, played by Barbara La Marr. A chafing dish is upset and in a moment the whole place is a mass of flames. To insure realism, the cabaret set was built outside the studio and literally burned to the ground.

SHIPPING HELD ASSURED WHEN HARBOR WORK COMPLETED

Many Pacific Coast Firms Anxious to Obtain Dock Facilities at Port

BOOSTERS AFTER DATA

San Diego Chamber Passes Resolution Endorsing County's Project

There will be a vast shipping business as soon as the Tricounties harbor at Newport is dredged to a depth of twenty-five feet and dock facilities are available, it was stated today by D. Eymann Huff, who has just received a large number of inquiries from important shipping concerns which are anxiously awaiting development of the local project. Huff has been obtaining information for the Committee of Fifty, appointed by the Orange county board of supervisors to work out recommendations for the county's part in harbor development.

"Many of the firms have written the committee, expressing an interest in extending their shipping services to include Orange county's harbor, making it a port of call," Huff declared. "Some of the concerns are inquiring about rental of dock space and they want to know about truck highways into the interior and adjoining counties."

A large San Francisco transportation company writes: "There is no question but what we would be able to send our coasting vessels into your port when same is dredged to twenty-five feet if we could obtain location and adequate dock facilities. We feel that this would be a very good distributing point to serve the neighboring communities."

Newcomer Buys Half Interest in Restaurant

Announcement was made here today of the sale of a one-half interest in the Pennant cafe, at 311-313 South Main street, by N. P. Peterson to Peter F. Benthien of Arlington, N. J., who is a newcomer to Santa Ana. The consideration was said to have been $15,000.

The Pennant cafe was owned by two brothers, N. P. Peterson and Otto Peterson, the latter of whom, it was reported, will remain in active charge. Benthien is an experienced restaurant man, he having owned restaurants in Hackensack and at Rutherford, N. J., it was announced, before coming here. He stated that he would send for his family immediately and that they would make their home in Santa Ana.

N. P. Peterson, it was stated, will retire to a ranch that he owns near the city.

Santa Ana Well Fitted for Shoe Factory, Claim

Santa Ana has the essentials of a shoe factory, according to local industrial boosters.

By Saturday there will be fifteen shoe factories in operation in the state of California, reports declare, and these produce but 14 per cent of the total consumption in the eleven western states. Los Angeles alone uses $28,000,000 worth of shoes annually and slightly less than $2,000,000 California, according to a boot and shoe survey just completed in this district.

Santa Ana is especially desirable as a shoe manufacturing center, it is said, because of cheap available land for factory sites, low rates for power and gas, climatic and labor conditions are held ideal.

Long Beach's first shoe factory will be in operation by Saturday, and Los Angeles has only five factories to supply the needs of Californians.

AUTO TOURISTS EXPEND $2000 DURING MAY

Register 480 Visitors At Local Campgrounds In Month Just Passed

During the past month 120 auto mobiles were registered at the camp grounds, the average party of tourists consisting of four persons. The auto clubs figure an average of $4.12 a day is spent by each person, piling up a total of $1977.60 for the 480 visitors during the four weeks period.

This is figured on a basis of one day in the city for each tourist, but the records at the park show that many of the visitors remain here longer than one day. If two cars in each day's registration at the park remained an additional day in Santa Ana, an extra $388.80 would be spent during the month, bringing the total in money expended by visiting motorists to $2966.40.

These figures do not include the money spent by tourists who camped outside the city limits or who registered at local hotels.

INDUSTRIAL SECTOR PAVING PETITIONED

Indicating preparation for providing a paved highway into the new industrial section being introduced with establishment of the factory of the Standard Glass company in the central manufacturing district, in the southeast part of the city, property owners on St. Gertrudes Place and St. Andrews Place today had before the board of supervisors a petition for paving those streets with six inches of concrete.

Standard avenue, on which the factory is to be located, also is included in the paving program, the factory owners and the owners of Lloyd park joining in the latter improvement.

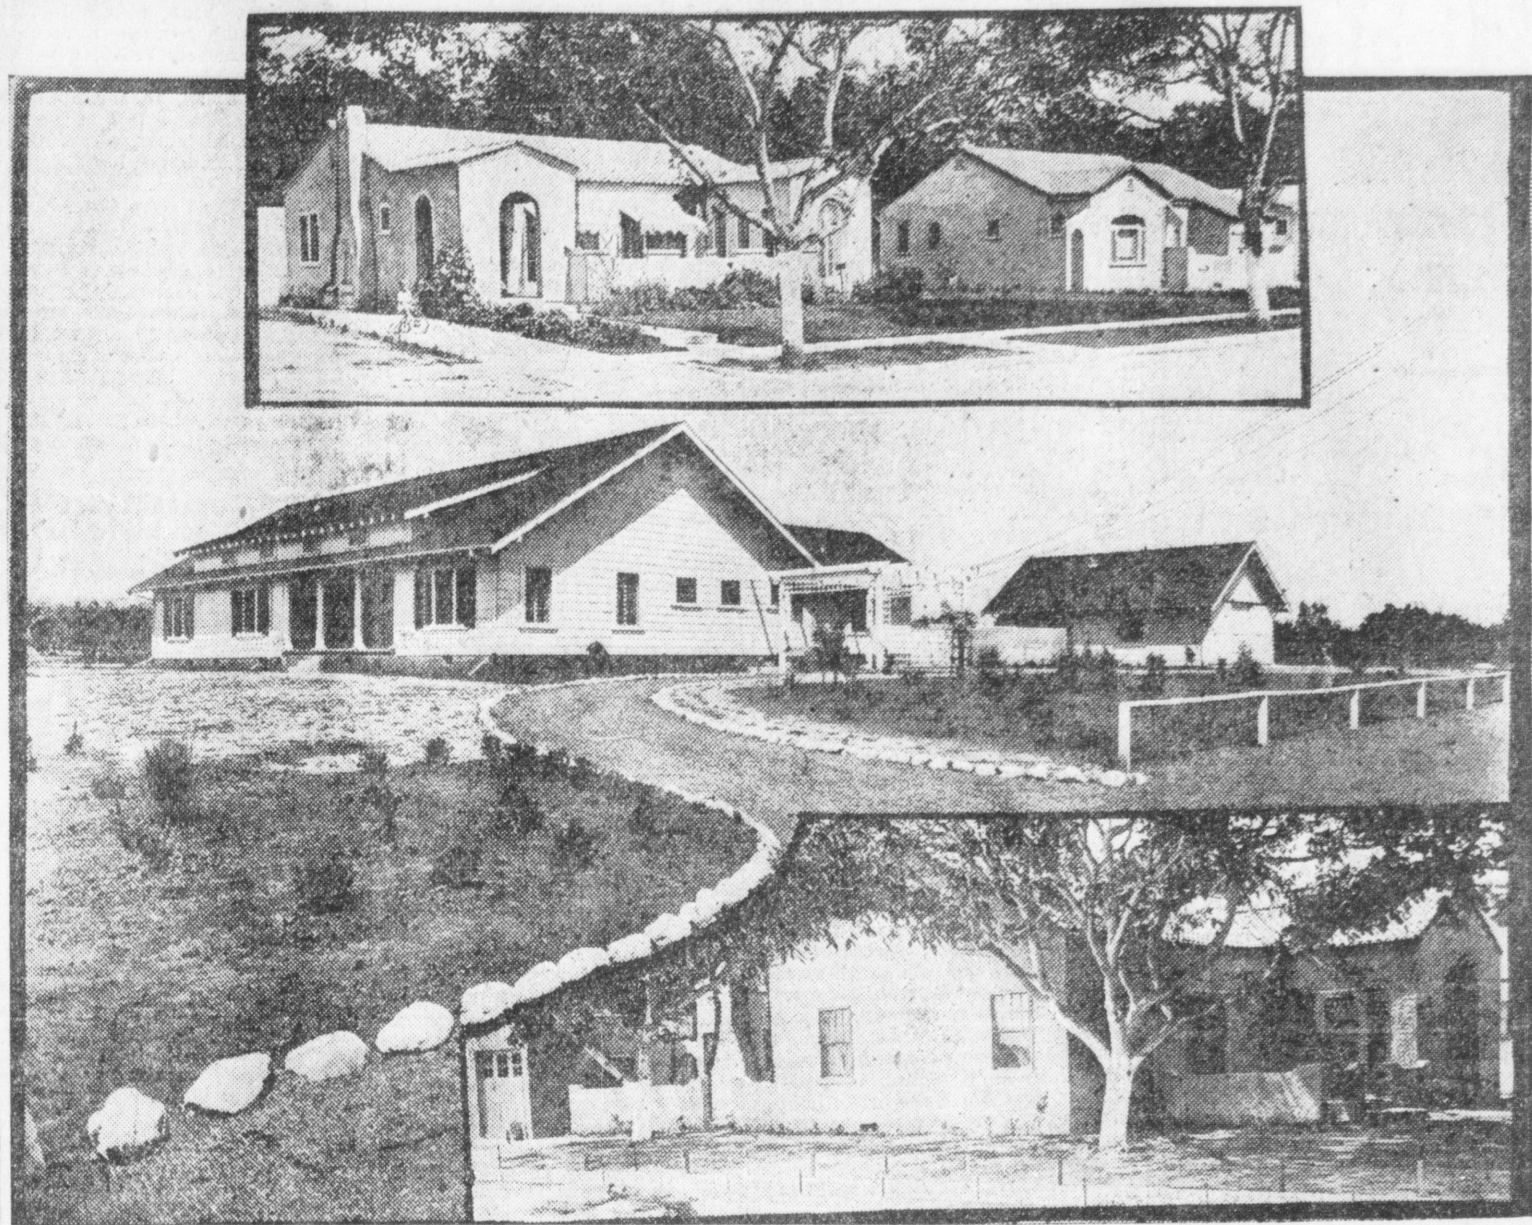

St. Andrews and St. Gertrudes extend from Main street through Chanticleer Manor, and McFadden Tract No. 4 and Lloyd Park.

The contemplated improvement is considered noteworthy from the fact that it has a direct bearing on highway facilities for the new manufacturing district, according to A. B. Rousseau, who was the subdivider opening up McFadden No. 4.

Ontario Man's Pets Are Shot in South

KINSTON, N. C., June 11.—A certain amount of religion, an interesting experiment and a love for wild creatures are back of the wholesale banding of waterfowl legs by a Kingston, Ont., man who makes pets of geese and ducks and protects them on a private preserve near that place. Local persons are familiar with his hobby through the shooting of a number of the banded birds in eastern Carolina.

"CITY OF HOMES" RECEIVES MANY NEW STRUCTURES

Upper—Two attractive new homes in the Huntington Square subdivision in the northwestern part of the city, the one at the left belonging to D. C. Huntington and the other to J. Rose. Center—New 9-room colonial residence of W. B. Moore in the Lemon Heights district. The spacious front yard has been beautified under plans of E. U. Fowler, local landscape architect. Lower—Italian style stucco home of A. H. Worswick at 1002 North Olive street. Every room has an outside door. The unique arrangement of rooms and the interior finishing are features.

SAYS BUILDING DECLINE SPELL TO BREATHE

Persons who have been engaged in the building industry in Southern California feel somewhat like a man who has been traveling by automobile at the rate of sixty or seventy miles an hour and who slows down to the normal speed of thirty to thirty-five miles when he begins to sight objects along the highway to ascertain if he is moving, and then thinks very seriously of getting out to walk so he can get somewhere, according to the opinion of Louis Allen, manager of the Orange county division of the Builders' Exchange of Los Angeles.

But this breathing spell is just what was needed, he maintains, so that "we can take stock of ourselves and the situation in general; that some of the 'irresponsibles' who have crept into the game during the rush will be eliminated and that when the start is made on the next stretch we shall be in

Beautiful new homes, some unique, today stood out as worthy additions to the "city of homes," in the opinion of persons who have admired them. In many cases attention has been paid to landscaping.

W. B. Moore, local business men, has completed erection of a nine-room colonial house on his three acres on Newport boulevard and Waas road, in the Lemon Heights district. The new residence, it was reported, cost approximately $15,000. The family is now located in its new home. The house was built 200 feet from Newport boulevard and the spacious grounds have been developed and beautified under the direction of E. U. Fowler, expert designer of Santa Ana.

"The front yard has been planted to lilia, as has also the back court. Shrubs, trees and roses are being developed," Fowler declared. "Mr. Moore will have one of the show places of the district."

"North Olive street in the Huntington Square tract, it is apparent, is being developed into one of the beautiful residential streets in Santa Ana. Homes on both sides of North Olive street are of the newest and latest design, representing several distinct types of construction.

The A. H. Worswick residence, at 1002 North Olive street, is unusually attractive. The rich hardwood floors in all of the rooms blend with the paneled walls, and the artistic parlor walls are "set off" with mahogany woodwork finished in walnut color.

Of Latest Design The convenient arrangement of the rooms in this house is a special feature. There is an outside door to every room in the house, three of which open to a tastefully arranged patio.

The six-room residence of D. C. Huntington at 1027 North Olive, with its unique patio, also is the source of admiration to those who favor the newest styles in architecture. Next door is the home of J. Rose, another example of the latest design in construction and coloring. Much comment has been heard by Rose because of the peculiar blending of the beautiful tints which make his home attractive. Both of these houses are of a Spanish stucco type.

CAL. RESIDENTS READY CUT MAN STAY-AT-HOME FOLK, CLAIM

Government census figures have been interpreted as proof that California is the greatest place in which to live in the entire world—at least California natives are the greatest lot of stay-at-homes on earth, according to Dr. Percy L. Clark in an article in Southern California Business, the official magazine of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Clark has come to the pains of figuring the percentage of native-born residents of various states who seek homes outside of their own commonwealth. This statistician has figured that less than 10 per cent of the people reared in California ever leave the state to make their homes elsewhere.

After showing that people leave home in search of opportunities, he states:

Stay at Home Here "If people leave home in search of opportunity or because of dearth of opportunity, they must stay at home because of abundance of opportunity, and contentment with their lot.

"The natives of California are the most stay-at-home people in the United States. During a period of forty years, five censuses, California has had more stay-at-homes than any other state. The figures show the per cent of all persons born in California, and the other states shown, who are living in some other state in the Union.

"In 1890 Florida had the lowest per cent with 7.5 per cent. In 1900 Florida and California were just equal with 9.6 per cent. In 1920 California was considerably lower with 10 per cent compared to Florida's 14.1 per cent. And Florida is the next lowest at that.

California Average Consistent "The average for the whole United States is more than double the figure for California at all five of the census periods. The average for all states has increased 1.3 per cent in twenty years, while the figure for California has changed only 4 per cent in the same period, and remained constant from 1900 to 1920.

"The native sons and daughters of California stay at home. That means that they must like it there. And more than that find that their own door yard contains 'acres of diamonds.'"

Silver Vein Struck 600 Feet Below Surface in Yukon DAWSON, Y. T., June 30.—A rich vein of silver ore was struck at the head of a big bore on Keno hill, 600 feet underground, in the Mayo district, according to word received here.

CAL. RESIDENTS READY CUT MAN STAY-AT-HOME FOLK, CLAIM

C. O. Neese, Santa Ana representative of the Pacific Ready-Cut company, has the distinction of designing one of the most distinctive houses ever constructed in Orange county. No plaster and laths or wallpaper are used—in fact the interior finish is exactly the same as the exterior with the exception, perhaps, of the color it is painted or stained.

And there is not a nail in the side of the walls to hold the house together, yet it is considered much stronger than the usual type of residence, according to Neese.

The sides of the Neese-designed home are made of boards one inch thick and twelve inches wide, running up and down with sides fitted far into the slots of parallel boards two inches thick and three inches wide. The 2x12-inch boards are used as battion which covers both the interior and exterior cracks between the wall-boards, and because this kind of battion is in one piece and is wedged over the ends of the wide boards, the walls are made considerably stronger and more weatherproof than the average board and battion construction. These boards are held in place by wooden strips nailed to the top and bottom only.

Following this plan of construction, Neese is building a five-room house in Balboa on Coronado street for C. W. Clark of Pasadena. The approximate cost is $3000, it was said.

ONE CHILD IN TOWN SHARON, N. H., June 12.—This town pays but $2 as a state school tax. The last census shows there is but one child of school age within its boundaries.

S. A. FORGES AHEAD WITH CITIZENS' SUPPORT

Enthusiasm of Livewires Declared Reason For Prosperity Here

BY NORMAN HENDERSON (Development Editor The Register)

Strangers often ask why Santa Ana seems so prosperous, so progressive, and why there is such a metropolitan appearance here when other cities of equal or even greater population do not produce the same effect on the visitor.

This is the reason—a large proportion of Santa Ana's population consists of dreamers, men with a vision and imagination to start something, live wires of the caliber that can make dreams come true, who can inspire capital to back the dream and then by force of enthusiasm and energy to bring about a realization of the fondest hopes of that vision.

It took the dreamers to transform Santa Ana's barley fields and orchards into subdivisions which now are beautiful residential districts with neat bungalows and attractive lawns decorating the palm-lined streets.

And today's dreamers have just launched a movement for the organization of an industrial body with capitalization of $250,000 to purchase acreage near the city for industrial sites, thus making it possible for great factories to obtain ideal inexpensive locations where nature's advantages guarantee success to industries.

The vision of hundreds of smokestacks carries with it the other development that consequently must follow—the completion of the harbor at Newport, thousands of additional citizens of Santa Ana and the hundreds of extra stores of all kinds to supply these new families.

Conceives Skyscraper.

A dreamer conceived the idea that the First National bank deserved a six-story structure for its home instead of the three-story building which for many years has been a landmark to Santa Ana. And as soon as the vision of a skyscraper was placed before the business and professional men here, there was a great demand for accommodations in the proposed building.

Far-sighted transportation wizards included Santa Ana as a valuable asset for the three transcontinental railroads which penetrate this district from which radiate 256 miles of paved roads in Orange county, which has a reputation as the richest county in soil product in America.

Santa Ana is a city where business and pleasure are happily combined. Its progressive appearance, attractive homes and magnificent schools arouse wonder and admiration, so visitors declare.

29 Churches Here. With its twenty-nine churches, four theaters, seventeen public schools and seven good hotels, it is little wonder that the tourist is attracted. The lack of old, dilapidated buildings here is noticeable. Residences, stores and office buildings all have the same attractive appearance, and all of the homes are surrounded by blooming plants which grow so luxuriantly the entire year in Santa Ana.

The busy appearance caused by considerable traffic, the convenience of electric trains which connect Santa Ana with fifty-three cities of Southern California, a city street car line, the four city bus lines and the four interurban transportation companies all tend to display the importance of this city.

Santa Ana is experiencing an im-

the pivot of the Home, namely the kitchen and the back porch.

Tired from a hard day's work—you mind full of the cares and strife of town—you slam the front door behind you and from the rear of the house comes a cheery, "Hello Dear." You are Home. The world with its worry and fuss is shut out. You go through the house to greet the wife. Wondrous odors fill your nostrils and all else is forgotten as your sense of smell tunes in on your favorite dish.

There is the worker in her laboratory proudly telling you how many quarts of berries she has canned in the afternoon. On the porch is a basket of clothes to be put to soak against the morrow's washing. Tomorrow evening the kitchen tables and chairs will be piled with fragrant linen all neatly folded.

And do you every step to think that, although you escape from your work every evening, friend wife is in the midst of hers all the while? Think of having to sleep in your office! Man, the least you can do is to make her workshop her joy.

Tow Wounded in Bootlegger Battle

QUEBEC, June 1.—Two American customs officers are known today to have been wounded and one Canadian runner captured in a battle between bootleggers and officers in the forest fastnesses of the Tremisoucoua county section, near the Maine border. Huge quantities of liquor are reported to have been secreted in that region for smuggling across the American border and the fight resulted when the officers invaded that section.

CITIZENS HELP GROWTH OF CITY

pulse of metropolitan growth and development which in a few years will make this city a leading home community and industrial center in the West.

Back Hopes With Money.
This will be accomplished by the dreamers who are willing to back their hopes with money and energy. Santa Ana is blessed with this kind of leadership which has successfully forged the city ahead despite epidemics, false propaganda and a national business depression which passed virtually unnoticed here.

better condition to accomplish the task that is before us."

Tells H. B. Development
In the current issue of the Builders' Exchange Bulletin, Allen uses the development of Huntington Beach as an example of the cause, effect and future expectations of the trend of construction activities. He states in part:

"It is probable that only a few of the people who have been going through the building program of the Southland during the past few years realize what a tremendous thing it has been. We hear of the millions of dollars expended month after month, that piles up into hundreds of millions at the end of the year. But it is like telling how far it is to the moon, we don't grasp what it all means.

"Let us take, for instance, the city of Huntington Beach, here in Orange county. Three years ago, there were sixteen hundred people in the city; today they have between 5500 and 6000. If nothing had been done but to provide housing for the increase it would have been a wonderful thing. But they have 500 oil wells—think what that means in lumber alone. They have just finished a $250,000 school building, and have built several others besides; they have a city hall and auditorium costing $100,000.

Mile of Paved Streets
"The amount of business and residential building to take care of such increase could not be enumerated in an article of this kind. There are miles of paved streets, curbs and sewers. Three and one-half miles of paving on Ocean boulevard (a part of the Coast Highway); one and one-half miles of this is 80 feet wide, with an ornamental lighting system just completed. There is street paving to progress at this time to the amount of five miles, with three miles of sewer to be laid and the resurfacing of two miles of paving. We might go on naming dozens of other things, but this is enough to aid us to grasp what has been done.

"If a town in the middle west or the east had done this thing it would have been heralded throughout the whole national press as a wonder. But we have not heard much of a fuss about Huntington Beach have we? Why? Because it is only one of the many communities of the Southland that have done the same thing.

"So we stop and begin to study the situation in detail we begin to appreciate the speed at which we have been going, and now that we are slowed down a little we commence to look around to see if someone is going to step on us. We are soon going to realize that this breathing spell is just what was needed."

RUSSIA FOR BALKAN PEACE, IS REPORT

LONDON, June 11. — "Russia wants peace in the Balkans; Moscow has abandoned 'map changing' policies of the old czarist regime; therefore any talk about Russia starting an offensive and igniting the Balkan powder magazine is mere foolishness."

Christian Rakovsky, chief of the soviet delegation here, gave this authoritative assurance in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

Rakovsky is assistant commissioner of foreign affairs in the soviet foreign office, and is the biggest soviet leader who has ever officially visited England. Writer, diplomat and revolutionist, Rakovsky, who speaks five languages, was president of the soviet government in Ukraine before coming to London to conduct important negotiations with Ramsay MacDonald's labor government, which, he hopes, will lead to a solid understanding between the British empire and soviet Russia.

Today in western Europe, Rakovsky is known as Russia's mouthpiece.

are contemplated for paved roads all the way to the harbor? Is the distance from Santa Ana ten miles?"

The next one writes: "We are operating steam schooners in the lumber business; our boats have a tonnage of about 2100 tons each and are about 288 feet long. We are operating seven boats and will be glad to enter with any of our boats if you have adequate harbor accommodations and a depth of twenty-five feet. It would be safe to say that all the rest of the lumber fleet will be willing to enter your harbor if the business is there. Lumber schooners carry quite a little general cargo; by this I mean that quite a trade in carrying general merchandise in and out of your port."

Distribution Stressed.
And still another one writes: "I think this would be a wonderful thing from a distribution standpoint for Orange and adjoining counties. If this harbor is dredged to an average depth of twenty-five feet, it would be a safe harbor for a real commercial interest in the development of the great project at Newport."

These few extracts from the many letters received by the Committee of Fifty, according to Huff, should be evidence enough for the most exacting, as they assure a real commercial interest in the development of the great project at Newport.

Adding to the pledges of support of the harbor project at Newport, which are being received almost daily by the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce from all parts of the Southland, comes a formal resolution from the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, urging the United States army board of engineers at Washington, D. C., to recommend to congress the granting of an appropriation for improving the entrance of the harbor at Newport.

Here's Resolution.
The resolution follows: "Whereas, the people of Orange county are in earnest in their desire to open up Newport bay as a commercial port in order to serve a large and important area of Southern California, and

"Whereas the people of Orange county have expended approximately $1,000,000 in harbor work which is of general benefit, and the time has now arrived for the government of the United States to indicate an interest in this commercial port, and

"Whereas there is a need for several new harbors along the Pacific Coast, especially in Southern California, in order to cater to the rapidly growing intercoastal and other water-borne business of the West, and

"Whereas the opening up of additional harbor facilities is of general benefit to all people, and to all lines of trade and business, especially where nature has made port location feasible and at nominal expense, and convenient to large traffic producing areas, and

"Whereas the County of Orange is prepared to expend in the near future funds on harbor work at Newport bay, and

"Whereas the rapid growth, and the increase in population of Southern California demand the location of additional industries, in turn calling for additional harbor and deep-water shipping facilities which harbor facilities can, in part, be supplied by Newport bay, and

"Whereas the splendid natural advantages, the large tributary of population, wealth and industry and the need for further adequate and early harbor development are strongly in favor of Newport bay to be opened up as a commercial port.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved by the board of directors of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce that the Board of Engineers of the United States Army be and are hereby urged:

"To support the plea for the opening up of Newport bay at the earliest possible date.

"To recommend to the congress of the United States the granting of an appropriation to Newport bay to make the entrance to Newport bay open and safe at all times for the passage of ships engaged in coastwise and other commerce."

Co-Operation Promised.
Accompanying the resolution is a letter to the harbor Chamber extending assurances of full and complete co-operation. In order that the letter may be generally read, the Harbor Chamber has requested The Register to print it.

"June 5, 1924.
"Mr. Harry Welch, Manager, The Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, Newport Beach, California.
"Attached is a copy of a resolution passed by the board of directors of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce at their last meeting in regard to the opening up of Newport bay as a commercial port.
"We have been shown various letters written by citizens of Orange county who apparently have been given to understand from some source unknown to us that the San Diego Chamber of Commerce has gone on record in opposition to the improvement of Newport Bay. As you will recall from our previous correspondence, this Chamber of Commerce, upon first presentation of the matter, withheld action pending further investigation, as they did not feel fully informed as to details of the project. This investigation has now been completed and the attached resolution comes as a result.
"We would appreciate your calling this matter to the attention of your board of directors, as some of them have apparently been included among those who were erroneously informed.
"Yours very truly,
"JOHN LAWRENCE FOX, Sec."

Contractors and building materials firms of Santa Ana today joined in an appeal issued to the public to build now at the same time definitely showed prices are lower now than they have been in recent years. An advance in building costs is predicted in the near future by those in close touch with the industry.

Lumber is selling in Santa Ana at a minimum base price of approximately $40 per 100 feet, according to Stanley Clem of the Santa Ana Lumber company, while the same material last year cost $53 a thousand, and two years ago cost $55. In other words, homes which last year required $4200 worth of lumber can be built today for approximately $2800, Clem explained.

Another incentive for building at the present time lies in the fact that expert labor is plentiful, according to J. S. Flour, local contractor.

Other Prices Cut
E. A. Noe, another Santa Ana contractor and builder, stated: "In order to discourage Eastern shipments of cement Southwestern cement dealers have lowered the price to about 80 cents a sack, with a rebate of 10 cents for the turn of the sack. Last year at this time cement sold for $1 a sack with the same rebate provision.

While plumbing material is between 15 and 20 per cent lower in price than it was at the peak last year, according to Frank A. Thomson, local manager of the Hickman Brothers Plumbing company, the cost has jumped 10 per cent during the past six weeks, and another increase may soon be expected.

Glass, Steel Lower
The W. P. Fuller company reported a reduction during the year of between 10 and 15 per cent in the cost of sheet glass, plate glass and wire glass. White lead, however, has increased slightly, although several kinds of paints have been reduced in price.

S. J. Babcock, a local building contractor, asserted that the price of structural reinforcing and all classes of building steel is much lower now than it has been for the past two years. Last year structural steel delivered in Santa Ana cost 7-1/2 cents a pound, he said, and this year the price is only 6-1/2 cents a pound.

Summarizing the statements of those most familiar with the building industry in Santa Ana, the cost of constructing residences or office buildings is lower today than it has been for two years, the figures showed.

PLAN BUSINESS STRUCTURE AT FULLERTON

FULLERTON, June 12.—The construction of a modern business block in the south part of Fullerton by E. B. Dreyfuss, an Anaheim capitalist, is one of the first moves toward the development of this section of the city.

The type of construction and approximate cost of the new building have not yet been disclosed by Dreyfuss. When the property on South Spadra at the corner of Maple avenue was purchased, Dreyfuss announced that work would be begun immediately on the erection of a business block and that during his absence his interests would be handled by Miss Carol Rapp, real estate agent, who completed the sale of the property.

He said that he had not decided definitely on the cost of the building which he said would contain at least six store rooms on the ground floor and several modern apartments on the second floor.

Reorganize Association
That a boom for the south side is being planned is evidenced by the recent meeting held to reorganize the South Side Improvement association. At this meeting plans were discussed for the obtaining of several improvements.

Principal among the development plans discussed at the meeting was the securing of tenants for vacant houses on the south side. Harry Shipkey, active in the reorganization of the association, said there were many vacant houses on the south side and that a campaign would be launched by the association to secure tenants for these houses.

Another matter discussed at the meeting was the setting aside of a fund for advertising the South Side of Fullerton as a residence and business section. Commenting on this subject Shipkey said:

"There are some wonderful opportunities on this side of town for all classes of mercantile establishments and the improvement association is going to obtain such establishments. We are planning to appropriate a sum to be used for advertising our part of the city. This money will be spent in the local and Los Angeles papers to tell the world what we have.

"At present if any resident of the south side wants to make a purchase, no matter how large or small, he has to travel into the principal business section. What is a big item for everyone. You have shoes to buy, for several members of the family. And there are so many other things to buy just to wear that it soon counts into money. It takes time, too, for you buy for Dad at one store, while Mother has to go to another store for her wants, and she has to make another stop for the children. This big new store (where Livesey's store used to be) makes it so convenient, because we have everything to wear for every one regardless of age or size. We sell nothing but good goods—no second quality merchandise at all—and the biggest attraction is the prices we have—they are so much lower than you have been used to paying. And you can buy everything to wear, from head to foot, in one big store, all on the same floor.

Of course we may be out of something you want at the start. If we are, please tell us about it so that we can have what you want for you.

Further Advantages of a Loan With This Association

First—Moderate Cost—We charge no commission for making loans. The abuse of charging a commission on loans resulted in the passage of a law in Ohio prohibiting associations from charging commissions for making loans.

Second—Small Monthly Payments—Payments can be adjusted to suit the ability of the borrower to pay.

Third—Interest Rate—The interest is 7.8% and the interest is computed only on the balance of loan unpaid, the balance of the monthly payment is deducted from the principal, making a smaller unpaid balance of the loan each month.

Fourth—Privilege of Repayment—Our loans can be repaid at any time by paying advance interest for one month on amount paid.

No Commission—No Expense of Renewal of Papers—Loan Paid Off When Desired by Borrower.

Stocks, Bonds, and Financial News

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

(By United Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, June 12.—The stock market today had a moderate upward trend, with the Dow Jones industrial average closing at 229.48, up 1.14 points from 228.34. The market was characterized by a steady flow of orders, with a notable increase in trading volume in the afternoon. The leading industrial stocks, including General Motors, Ford, and Standard Oil, showed gains. The bond market was also active, with Treasury notes and government bonds seeing significant trading. The foreign exchange market remained relatively stable, with the dollar maintaining its position against major currencies.

REDS' AIM TO STIR UP UNREST, CLAIM

LONDON, June 11.—The Communist party of Great Britain is actively engaged in a campaign to stir up industrial unrest in England. It is vigorously supporting the movement for higher wages that has resulted in recent strikes and threatens further stoppage of work in several important industries.

"It is not accurate to say that we are responsible for the strikes," said Harry Pollitt, chief industrial organizer of the Communist party. "We haven't started a single strike in England. I only wish we were strong enough to start a strike of our own."

"Wherever strikes take place, however, we get on the job at once. Generally we are invited to take a hand in the game as soon as a strike starts. We stay in the fight to the finish, urging the men to hold out for full acceptance of their demands."

"Of course we are trying to stir up industrial unrest. That is one of the fundamentals of our policy. The only way we can win our fight is to arouse the workers, and agitation against the evils of the capitalist system is the most effective way of arousing them."

Placentia News

PLACENTIA, June 11.—The petition and maps for the rural mail routes proposed to run out of Placentia have been sent to Washington. Chairman Hale, assisted by Richard White, Mrs. T. L. McFadden, Mrs. Fred Cline and secretary C. E. Lee have worked hard getting petitioners signed up and outlining a suitable route that would give people living on such a line mail earlier than it is now received.

It is pointed out that a proposed route following the general line of the present Fullerton route No. 2 could leave Placentia at 9 o'clock and still be as early in delivery as the present route and catch the 8:30 morning Los Angeles mail and the 8:55 eastern mail, getting it to the ranchers and fruit growers the same morning it arrives, instead of letting it lay over a day in the postoffice as is now the case.

The second proposed route takes in Crowther avenue and part of the oil fields north of Richfield, Orangefield and the next street south. Strong letters of endorsement have been sent to Washington by several parties who live on the proposed route requesting the granting for a rural route out of this city. Placentia is entitled to such routes but aside from that the fact that the fruit growers can get better mail service is the main and primary object why such routes should be established. Frank Hornum drew the maps of the proposed route from field notes submitted by the committee.

HANDLING OF NEWPORT BAY BREAKWATER EASY PROBLEM DECLARES COMMITTEE CHIEF

By HUGH T. THOMSON
Chairman of the Engineering Group of the Committee of Fifty.

In a study of Newport bay entrance one of the first subjects considered is the breakwater, or west jetty, as it is more generally termed. Compared with the problem encountered in other places, the handling of the breakwater at the Orange county harbor is a simple one.

The jetty at Newport bay is at present 2100 feet long. In it there are 84,808 tons of stone brought from Riverside county and put in place at a cost of $247,620.00, of which $175,000 was paid by the city of Newport Beach.

Suggestions for repair of the jetty, extending it a few hundred feet more into the deeper water, also indicate that for this work not a very large sum will be required. Stone is available at Catalina island and should be handled in place in the jetty at a lesser cost than the stone already placed. The Catalina stone has been examined by experts and reported upon favorably, and is said to be suited to breakwater work.

Stone Settlement.
Settlement of the stone in any breakwater is usual; sometimes the settlement continues for several years due to the composition or condition of the sea floor. It is natural that the placing of large blocks of stone repeatedly on the lower courses will cause some depression to occur, but the lower strata of stone eventually reach a point where further settlement is halted and the structure remains firm.

Even in breakwaters constructed on the wall pattern, according to well known engineers, some settlement is inevitable. Well-constructed breakwaters of this type have been known to sink to an extent of 10 to 12 per cent of their total height without appreciably affecting the stability of the structure. It must be kept in mind that the great mass of a breakwater is below the surface of the sea and the part that is exposed is that between the low and high tides and above the tide line.

Cost Is Low.
To repair the jetty at the entrance of Newport bay will not require a large sum and competent

BABY SHOW TO BE HELD AT SEAL BEACH

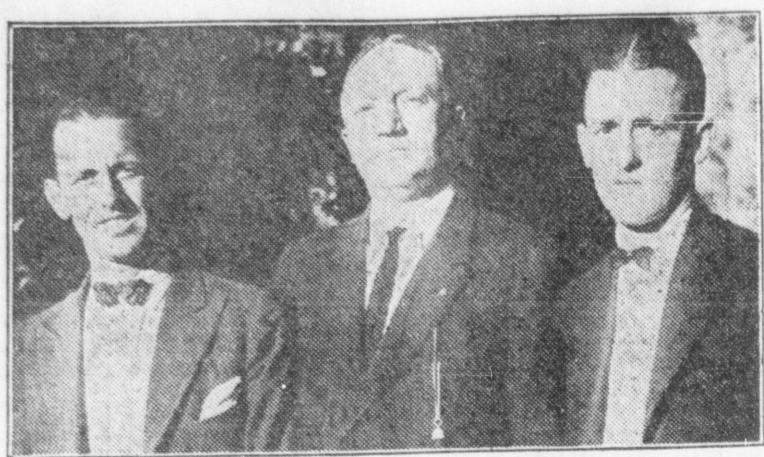

Ten Prizes Are Offered By Woman's Club to Contest Winners

SEAL BEACH, June 12.—A convention of perfect babies of Orange and Los Angeles counties will be held at Seal Beach July 13. The baby parade will be the leading feature, according to representatives of the Seal Beach Woman's Improvement Club.

The club will offer ten prizes. A representative small son or daughter of a member of the woman's club or of the Boosters club will lead the parade.

The Woman's Improvement club named as its committee in charge, the following members: Mesdames Hamilton, Johnson, Moore, Vorce and Fred Smith. The entertainment committee of the boosters will assist with arrangements.

PRASE THREE HEROES

Persons acquainted with the rescue work performed at the mouth of Orange county harbor are loud in their praise of the performance of left, Hall Miller of Sierra Madre, center, Jess Coe of Orange, right, Thomas Miller of Sierra Madre, and Walter Miller of Sierra Madre, the third brother, who is not in the picture. Between them five persons were saved from the jaws of the sea. Photo by Boden.

LONE ORIENTAL IN ORANGE CHINATOWN WILL MOVE OUT; "ALLE SAMEE THRO" VERDICT

ORANGE, June 12.—Chinatown, whose fascinating lures once served to attract large throngs, will soon pass into the discard, tossed aside by the onward march of progress.

The flourishing little village, located on South Glassell street, near the Santiago creek, once boasted a laundry, truck gardens and several stores.

Quaint figures, bent and stooped, clad in silken garments darted noiselessly to and fro in the rambling weather-beaten structures, while visitors generally thronged the places, purchasing oriental curios.

Pungent odors often greeted the nostrils, but usually the evil scent was overcome by incense, burning lazily before the Buddha, which the orientals guarded zealously.

The laundry, where bent and shrunken forms bent over their labors, wielding hot irons and sending streams of water sizzling between their teeth, outlived the other structures.

But now, even that will be no more.

Others before him, have left, one by one, some locating in the Mexican settlement, others going to nearby cities.

When Chinatown was at its height, throngs congregated in the little buildings, Sundays usually being the busiest day for the orientals.

Often the shacks were the target of rock bombardments, pitched by youthful hands. A chorus of abbering always echoed through the quiet little village as the missiles found their targets.

A scurrying of feet followed down the Santiago creek, with an occasional "pigtail" fluttering in the breeze.

Now the march of progress has taken a hand. The low rambling structures, which have withstood the ravages of the elements for more than thirty years, will soon be razed in the development now taking place in that section of the city.

"Alle samee thro," remarks Sing Lee, laundryman, who holds the championship for squirting water through his teeth, today prepared to move out, having been given notice to vacate the premises.

And Chinatown, once the lure of throngs, is through.

Garden Grove News

GARDEN GROVE, June 12.—At the meeting of the Civic club on last Friday Mrs. Janie V. Kelsey president called the meeting to order. Mrs. Schranjengast, chairman of the membership committee reported five new members obtained during the month bringing the total up to the one hundred mark. Mrs. Kelsey gave her report of the year's work which covered a great deal of ground and showed how much time and energy the president has expended. She very gratefully acknowledged the help of all officers and members and expressed her gratitude for their co-operation.

Mrs. Kelsey has served the club as presiding officer for the past two years and her credit is due her for the efficient management during this period.

Mrs. C. B. Henry on behalf of the club members presented Mrs. Kelsey with a solid gold pin, the emblem of the Federation of Women's clubs, saying in part, "There have been times in the past two years when we thought you were the most wonderful woman; your courage and diplomacy have brought us through many trying situations and we know that if it had not been for your undaunted perseverance we should have had no clubhouse. This little pin carries with it the love and best wishes of all members of this club and will also tell all who see it what you have been doing."

Miss Mettie Chaffee, parliamentarian, acted as installing officer for the following: President, Mrs. Charles Selover; vice president, Mrs. St. Clair Woods; treasurer, Mrs. H. H. Lewis; recording secretary, Mrs. W. Strackengast; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. Keele; curator, Mrs. J. Jentges.

Mrs. Kelsey presented Mrs. Selover with the club papers and gavel wishing the new officers success.

On taking the chair Mrs. Selover expressed her appreciation of the honor conferred upon her and the hope that the new corps of officers would be able to equal the achievements of the outgoing personnel. She stressed the idea of individual effort saying, "I believe that every true club member should consider it a privilege to be able to give of her time and energy to promote the welfare of the organization with which she is affiliated."

The work of the coming year was outlined and the meeting was adjourned for the summer.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Civic club was held Friday June 6. The past year has been one of great accomplishments as was shown in the yearly reports.

On May 21, 1923, the contract for the new building was signed with Mr. Fibles of Anaheim for the erection of a $6000 clubhouse to be finished within ninety working days. At that time there was in the building fund, $800, $180 was raised by subscription, $150 raised by commissions on lots sold in the Chaffee tract and $1000 was subscribed by the Chamber of Commerce. The balance was raised by placing a mortgage on the property.

Mrs. H. H. Lewis is to be greatly praised for her efficient handling of the money of the club, $11,854.29 having passed through her hands during the past year. Mrs. Lewis was recently elected treasurer for

Beach Pastor To Mark Anniversary of His Ordination

SEAL BEACH, June 12.—The congregation of St. Anne's parish, Seal Beach, is interested in the coming jubilee of the pastor, Rev. James Eugene Fitzgerald. The jubilee of the pastor, Rev. James Eugene Fitzgerald. The jubilee, which is the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination, will be celebrated Sunday, June 22. The occasion will be marked by solemn high mass.

The celebrant of the mass, Rev. James E. Fitzgerald, deacon of the mass, Rev. James Brown, pastor of the St. Boniface church, Anaheim; Rev. Fr. Rizzo, provincial of the Immaculate Heart Fathers, Long Beach, who have been attending Sunday school at Seal Beach for years. Rev. Austin Fleming, the former pastor, has been invited to sing the offertory.

To accommodate the large number of visitors and Knights of Columbus a public dinner will be served.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 12.—Members of the Woman's club annual luncheon at the Woman's clubhouse here on Tenth street. The street, which was recently paved, was lined with cars.

Ten thousand Jews were guests at a wedding, in Roumania, of a rabbi's daughter. The food included 33 oxen, 210 sheep, and 160 calves.

The first meeting in the new clubhouse was held August 3. On August 24, a kitchen shower brought in many needed articles and utensils.

The formal dedication was August 31 and about four hundred guests were present. Congratulations were offered by all clubs of the county, the Garden Grove club being the youngest organization and the local building being the third erected in the county.

Early in September a radio concert was broadcasted from a Los Angeles station which consisted of musical numbers and short speeches.

The building fund was augmented throughout the year in various ways. In September a three day carnival was staged; each Wednesday noon the Lion's lunch-eon has been served, card parties and dances on alternating Tuesdays have found the clubhouse in use almost constantly not to mention the affairs of the schools, farm bureau and other organizations which have been held there.

A merry Saturday evening at the County park honoring Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson and little son Bobbie of Brawley. Among those present were J. O. Arkley and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Reyburn, Miss Ethel Archer, Mr. R. M. Fay and Mrs. S. S. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mills and son Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Christian, son and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. Anderson sr. and the honorees.

Other matters referred from the director's meeting recently will also be taken up at the meeting. Entertainment will be furnished during the evening by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Holt of Garden Grove.

Sprurred to action by the announcement that the Southern California Edison company is seeking permission to increase its rates the city council, endorsed the idea of the city plant. They instructed City Engineer W. C. Record to secure all the available data he could from other cities where the power systems were municipally owned and to make a particular study of oil engines for power generation.

The question of submitting a bond issue to take care of the initial expenditures in connection with the proposed power plant will be taken up later, it was intimated.

Following the reading of a notice of a public hearing to be held in Los Angeles on June 17 at 10 a. m. by the state railroad commission on the Edison application, Trustee W. J. Carmichael said that he thought the time was ripe for this city to investigate the municipal lighting plant idea here.

City Attorney F. H. Lyon said that several years ago he had gathered data on city owned systems from a number of different centers. These showed, he said, that municipal ownership had proven an unqualified success. He instance Riverside as an outstanding example, quoting figures of his contention. From a small beginning the plant there had been extended into a large system which now is furnishing power, he declared, at a lower cost than that of the big power corporations.

The attorney added that the system had worked out most advantageously in Anaheim, at Redding, Lodi and other cities in the state.

Suggests Oil.

"And the same is true of different places all over the United States and Canada," interjected Carmichael. "We are situated in the heart of the greatest oil-producing area in the world and we ought to take advantage of the natural resources we possess. I think we ought to specially consider oil burning equipment for the proposed lighting plant."

The opinion was expressed by Lyon that the public will need to be educated to the needs and potentialities of a municipally owned and operated system.

Trustees Thompson, Davis and Moore concurred in the proposals to investigate the city power plant scheme and expressed themselves in favor of the establishment of a system.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 12.—The Huntington Beach Municipal band will play next Sunday, June 15, at 2:30 p. m. on the band stand at the beach.

The band boys will turn out in their new white uniforms, having recently bought new white caps. Next Sunday's concert will feature Mr. Hart and Mr. Stock in a horn duet, "Twilight Romance." The band was applauded very much last Sunday, showing that the people were really enjoying it. Director Fishman announces the following program for next Sunday:

March, "Leviathan," L. F. Galaska.

Overture, "Raymond," Ziege.

Waltz, "Primrose," Lithgow.

Selection, "High Jinks," Follenback.

Intermission.

March, "From Ocean to Ocean," F. F. Crumling.

French Serenade, "Love Paraphrase," Lutpiz.

Duet for cornet and trombone, "Twilight Romance," Steinlesie-Messers, Hart and Stock.

Selection, "Songs from the Old Folks," M. L. Lake.

"The Star Spangled Banner."

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of fruitless search, that no one could be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely dissolved every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenbu, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allenbu with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. HUNTINGTON BEACH PEOPLE UP IN ARMS OVER DUMPING OF BILGE OIL INTO OCEAN

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 12.—Following investigations by city officials which showed that the oil tanker Silver Shell, of the Shell Oil company of Liverpool, England, was the boat which had Sunday saturated the beach here with oil, local citizens were today adding their protests to those of the city officials and it is expected that action will be taken immediately.

According to statements made here today the tanker was seen by several local people through field glasses pumping the bilge water out as it passed by this city. J. H. Macklin, Ed Manning, J. A. Morris, and J. M. Barlow, were said to have followed the boat, and with the aid of the glasses, were plainly able to see the huge stream of black oil and water as it came from the ship. They were said to have followed the boat from this city to Seal Beach.

Bathers who were driven from the beach here about two hours afterward, and also bathers at other beaches as well as city officials of Newport Beach, Seal Beach, Long Beach, Anaheim Landing, Sunset Beach, Naples, and other cities were also up in arms today over the matter. It is expected that these people will demand action from the district attorney's office in regard to the matter in the very near future.

If the local people with the help of witnesses should be able to establish a strong enough case against the tanker time of $5000 for the offense, it is claimed. According to the witnesses of the boat and its discharge of oily water the act was committed not more than two miles from the shore. Some of the bathers even claimed they could see the dark stream of oil as it left the boat.

"This scattering of oil must stop immediately or we will see that the captains of oil tankers who persist in pumping bilge water in this section are caught and punished," it was said here by Macklin.

According to a plan proposed here today a boat may be secured through the efforts of the attorneys of the various Orange county towns to spend its time cruising up and down the three mile limit watching for such offenses in the future.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 12.—Fishing here during the past few days has been good. During the early mornings and late evenings, it was reported by C. L. Curtis, proprietor of the fishing tackle stand at the end of the pier. Waiting along this coast during the day time for the past few days has been very rough, he stated.

Many fine spot fin have been landed here during the past few days. Harvey Walker, local angler, is still leading in the surf fish race with a spot fin of well over five pounds. Several nice surf and spot fin fish were landed yesterday, although few people were on the pier.

A twenty-four pound shark was landed from the end of the pier yesterday, which came close to taking the honors away from the preceding holder of the shark family's largest catch. One large shark was caught some time ago, which weighed over twenty-five pounds.

Many local bathers were also to be seen in the surf yesterday, despite the roughness of the water. Members of the Junior Red Cross life saving corps here, under the direction of Harry Lee, local life guard, are to be seen on the beach daily training for future honors when they will be awarded senior life guard certificates. One of the lads, Delbert "Bud" Higgins received his senior certificate last year, as did also Eugene Belshe, who recently left here to join the navy.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 12.—An adjustment compensation service committee headed by Kenneth Brown of Joseph Rodman post, American Legion, will be one of the features of the American Legion here during the coming months. It was announced here today by L. Mitchell, adjutant of the post here.

"The committee will help all Legionnaires to make out and present their claims for compensation, and will bring many new members into our post, we believe," Mitchell stated in setting forth the many advantages which the American Legion will be able to give their members in regard to the compensation and other matters.

Members of the committee are J. K. Sargent, Dr. L. A. Olmstead, J. H. Strachan. The matter of appointing this committee was acted upon at the meeting of the Legion here last night.

Local people are taking much interest in the matter of forming a machine gun company here and it is expected that the company will be completed in quick order. It is hoped that this city will complete their detail of the national guard before any other city in the county as that will mean that the company here will then be the ranking company in the county.

According to Mitchell enough men should turn out to the meeting to more than fill the company.

The installation of a machine gun company here will not only mean that the men who are in the company will secure a vast amount of excellent training but they will enjoy a great many privileges, such as camp life during the year, and will be paid for this time, it is pointed out.

BEACH LIONS MEET

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 12.—One of the best meetings of the year was held yesterday noon by the local Lions club. Chairman of the Day L. R. Ride-nour, president of the city board of town talent on the program. Musical selections, both instrumental and vocal as well as some excellent speakers were included on the program. A large attendance was present at the meeting.

LEGION PLANS EXPOSITION AND FAIR

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 12.—An entertainment feature under a huge tent every afternoon free to the public, amusements, exhibits, and other interesting stunts are acts will be the features of the American Legion Industrial exposition, and community fair to be held at the corner of Ocean avenue and Third streets, starting June 28 and lasting until July 6.

Clyde Wardman, chairman, Jack Robertson, and M. T. Owen are members of the committee in charge of the exposition, which is being given for the benefit of the proposed new clubhouse of the local Legion.

Local merchants have arranged to have tents portraying small model stores surrounding the large exhibition and entertainment tent, which will be open to the public. Displays of industrial and natural advantages of this city will be arranged by the local chamber of commerce, and a model camp ground, a replica of the one to be constructed here, will be on exhibition.

Money for the clubhouse fund is now being raised in several ways. Members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Legion have been giving benefits for the clubhouse for some time. The matter of raising money by popular subscription and loans on the part of members of the Legion will also be taken up in the near future, it is believed. A central location close in is being considered by the Legionnaires and work will start on the building as soon as possible. Plans were drawn for the building some time ago. They provide for a store room on the lower floor with a small hall for regular meetings, and a large hall on the upper floor which will be used by other organizations and civic bodies.

BUILDING MOVE BEGINNING TO HIT STRIDE

"The spring building season was a little slow in getting under way, but now the construction activity is going to start right in and make up for lost time."

This statement was made today by C. O. Neese, local builder of Pacific Ready-Cut homes, who further asserted that the Orange county harbor resorts were attracting out-of-town home-builders.

"We have been kept busy lately with a large crew of carpenters from Santa Ana who have been working on a number of ready-cut homes at Balboa and Newport," he continued.

"In Balboa we are now building homes for H. A. Hoase and C. W. Clark, both of Pasadena.

"On the island we have just completed residences for Mrs. Mina A. Corder and Ed. Liebel, both of Los Angeles, and are preparing to construct a house for C. W. Brown, also an Angeleno.

"In Newport Beach we are constructing a place for Dr. C. A. Seiber of Los Angeles, and nearby we are laying the foundation for another residence to be built for Miss Cora Zumwalt of La Verne.

"Judging by the steadily improving business conditions in this vicinity, I sincerely believe that the building industry may expect a most successful year."

NORTH BRISTOL PAVING URGED TO BOOSTERS

Paving of Bristol street north to a junction with West Fairhaven avenue, just north of Santiago creek, and extension of Ocean boulevard east from Garden Grove to a connection with the west end of Fairhaven, was the program suggested by E. R. Stillens, of Garden Grove for the West-Northwest Improvement association, at a recent meeting of the board of directors, Floyd Croddy, secretary, announced today.

Croddy said that Stillens stressed the importance of such a program and asserted that completion of the project would offer to Garden Grove residents another direct highway connection with Santa Ana.

"Stillens assured the directors that Ocean boulevard would be extended to Fairhaven," Croddy stated, "if the suggestion for paving Bristol street is carried out."

The membership of the association met at the city council chambers Tuesday night, when reports were heard from various committees. Freeman H. Bloodgood, local realtor, was the programmed speaker.

According to Croddy, Bloodgood suggested the location in Santa Ana of four parks, of not less than one block each, and located in each quarter of the city. Acting on the suggestion, the president, L. E. Martin, was authorized to appoint at the next meeting a permanent committee on parks.

"Conditions that make the west and northwest sections of the city ideal locations for residences," the secretary said, "were shown by Bloodgood, who said that the elevation at Santa Clara avenue and Broadway is 141 feet, as against 113 at Second street and Broadway, and 75 feet at South Main and Edinger streets.

"It developed at the meeting that a census of school children in the northwest is being taken to determine the necessity for placing additional school facilities in that district."

Doctor Serving in Sing Sing Put at Work on Coal Pile

OSSINING, N. Y., June 12.—Dr. Frank Kroengold of Brooklyn, who gave his occupation to Chief Clerk Edward Hickey as "doctor of medical science," is working today with the "rookie squad," following his arrival at Sing Sing to serve a term of five years for grand larceny. The doctor, who is 25 years old, gave his home address as 1631 Fifty-third street, Brooklyn. His record shows that he served a term in Elmira reformatory and that he also paid a fine of $50 on a charge of impersonating a federal officer. They do not allow inmate physicians to work at the medical profession in Sing Sing, so the doctor was sent to the coal pile.

$30,000 STOCK RANCH TRADED TO S. A. MAN

F. C. Pope, local realtor, was home from Tentic Valley, Utah, with a deed in his pocket to a 1200 acre stock ranch in that valley, the result of an exchange with Major Phillip Morton, of Los Angeles, for Santa Ana and Los Angeles residence property. The consideration on each side was reported at $30,000.

Accompanied by his family, Pope drove to the property ten days ago, completing negotiations for the exchange while there. The ranch is partly stocked, Pope said. The realtor announced that it is not his intention to reside on the property. He will place a competent man in charge, he said.

Declaring that he was told by residents of the valley that his property was one of the best watered in that district, Pope said that he considered he had acquired a valuable holding.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 12.

The warm weather of the last few weeks has sent an unusual number of people to the beach towns for this time of the year and this is especially true of Huntington Beach. Every day sees new arrivals in town and everywhere the glimmer of summer parasols and the flutter of summer apparel is to be seen. Last Sunday was an especially busy day, throngs crowding beach and pier all day long while the boulevards were filled with automobiles.

Almost every visitor to Huntington Beach exclaims with delight and wonder at the appearance of Ocean avenue since the paving has been finished. Ocean avenue is now paved its entire length through the town and is eighty feet in width. The eighty-foot paving extends for two and a half miles making it one of the finest and widest paved streets in the state.

Other streets that have been paved recently are Tenth, Fifth, Eleventh and Eighth. Paving is now under way on Fourteenth.

"That was new to me," said Pope. "Large herds of the wild animals roamed the plains of the valley." The real estate dealer also had some experience with quarantine regulations at Searchlight. The family made a camping vacation out of the trip to Utah. At Searchlight they were forced to give up fruits, eggs and butter and other edibles that were not contained in sealed packages, he stated.

Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets.

The new ornamental lights on Eleventh and Eighth streets and other thoroughfares occasion much favorable comment among visitors. These with the fine lighting systems on Ocean avenue and the pier give the city a brilliantly festive appearance at night.

The swimming pool continues to attract many persons every warm day. New bellers were recently stalled to heat the water and Huntington Beach proudly boasts that it has one of the cleanest swimming pools in California.

Grunion hunting has been a popular sport many nights this spring. Numerous parties made the nights when the grunion were "running" the occasion for evening picnics and frolics and at times the campfires of grunion hunters on the beach gave the strand the appearance of an army bivouac.

Merchants declare that business generally has taken a turn for the better and there is every indication that this city is in for a prosperous summer.

The London churches built by Sir Christopher Wren and now threatened with demolition have become the subject of a plan to remove and rebuild them in New York and other American cities.

Eastern Folk to See Brick Yards

Brick yards located in communities in the vicinity of Los Angeles will be visited by more than 200 delegates from all parts of the country. It was learned here today when the annual summer convention of the American Ceramic society is held in Los Angeles from August 7 to 11.

A special train for eastern delegates will leave New York on July 21 and will travel westward through the Canadian Rockies, according to plans. Delegates from the brick and terra cotta industry in Oregon, Washington and California will join the Eastern delegates as the train passes through their respective territories.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
Bradford looked up with the instinctive respect that he had always felt for such a good workman as Limejuice Pete had proven himself to be.

It had been an auspicious day for the cannery when he had hired Pete on the deck of the Dolly Betts. Although he was a silent, taciturn man to whom none of his fellow workmen had ever got close, he had learned the fish game in record time and had proved a valuable addition to the force.

"Pete, didn't you tell Mr. De Long here that you intended to winter on the mainland?"
"Yes, sir," the blond giant answered slowly.

"Well, you've got a queer idea of having a good time, to say the least. Well, we've run into a good thing for you. How would you like to act as a guide for a party of people from the States—a job of two or three weeks, I should judge, in which you could fairly ask guides' wages—ten dollars a day. It would be late September and early October—giving you plenty of time to get out your lines before furs are prime."

"I'd like it mighty well," he answered.
"Well, you're the best man for the place. Some people are coming up on the last trip of the Catherine, and we're going to let them board the Warrior—and after they've finished with their business on the Bering Sea side of the mainland, they'll go on in the Warrior down to Seward. You can pack on your winter's grub and your outfit, and they can leave you on the mainland when they go on down to Seward. As the single survivor of the Vigen you can show them approximately where they want to go."

Pete slowly straightened. His fingers went white to the tips. "What has the Vigen got to do with it?" he asked brokenly.

"Nothing, except that the wreck of the Vigen—of course you know the last vestige of her has broken up and vanished—marks also the site of the wreck of the Jupiter. They are going out to exhume the body of that Remittance Man who went down with the ship—and he was buried on the shore—Peter Newhall was his name. Mrs. Newhall and a couple of other people are in the party."

He thought it an illusion that the tall man in the doorway should seem suddenly pale and stricken, as if in the presence of a ghost. And it was true; the dead had risen for Limejuice Pete.

CHAPTER VI
Dorothy Meets Pete
EVEN as he wondered at the maze into which fate was leading him Pete was swept with exultation.

It was not that his dreams overlaid themselves, that he was lifted up by false hopes. He knew exactly where he stood, his exact limitations. He knew, first of all, that Dorothy must never know his identity. She must never be permitted to receive the faintest hint of the truth: that the embalmed body in the casket was not that of her husband. Her eternal happiness depended upon that; and her happiness, hers alone—now that full vision had come to him—was the one theme of his life.

Indeed, after that counterfeit of himself in the casket had been unearthed and Dorothy had sailed away, his own fate would not greatly matter. He would vanish into the interior with his traps and perhaps the bitter winter would destroy him; but at least he would have fulfilled his last dream, since his flight from home three years before—and he would bear no ill will. The dark curtains of oblivion could drop over him for all he would care.

It moved him deeply that his wife should make the long perilous journey in his memory, leaving the warmth, the light and gaiety that she loved simply to do honor to her dead.

Meanwhile Dorothy made leisurely preparations for the journey. She bought sturdy outing clothes, a heavy sleeping robe in case the search for the grave kept her over night on the mainland, and only the journey's grim objective prevented a certain spirit of adventure.

Bradford's telegram, however, urged haste; and as soon as reservations could be procured, she, Ivan, and her uncle, a gray, kindly, successful business man of Savannah, departed on the west-bound train. At Bellingham the party boarded the Catherine D, the large freight and passenger steamer that was used in the fish trade.

She had expected some sort of a disreputable old tramp steamer that was to be endured from necessity; and she was hardly prepared for the long, spick-and-span deck of the Catherine D. Captain Knight let her occupy what he proudly called the bridal suite; a beautiful stateroom on the upper deck, equipped with bathroom, a great settee, and every possible device for her comfort.

She had always been a good sailor, and the ten-day cruise to Squaw Harbor possessed real pleasure for her. In the first place it was a complete rest for her tired nerves. She slept long in the morning, ate simple, well-cooked food at regular hours, walked the deck with Ivan or with the friendly ship captain, and spent the day at her ease on the long deck.

Sometimes Dorothy thought that he was struggling with something akin to actual fear. He seemed troubled, rather nervous; and it was not like this brave man to be appalled by the natural perils of the journey.

The morning of the eleventh day she awakened to find herself in Squaw Harbor, the first lap of the journey done. After breakfast, she went ashore with Ivan to make final plans for the launch trip to the north coast of the mainland.

She was immensely pleased with Bradford's arrangements. The Warrior would carry her straight to the scene of the wreck, he said; then the boat would lie at anchor outside until a dory could be put ashore and the casket unearthed and brought aboard. This accomplished, she and her party would be transported to Seward, whence they could catch the Admiral Watson back to Seattle.

"I've got you three good men for your labor," he told her—with that kindness and courtesy toward strangers that is the tradition of the North. "Your head guide is Pete—he was wrecked on the Vigen and knows approximately where the Jupiter broke up. Then you have Fortune Joe and Nick Pavlov for general labor—packers, we call them—both as good men as I could find."

"I'm sure they will be satisfactory," Dorothy commented. "And what odd names your Alaskans have."

"There are some queerer ones than that, if you just give me time to think of them. Fortune Joe is a native medicine man, and laugh if you like, the things he can do are not easily explained. Of course, it is some kind of psychic power, but don't ask me what. Nick Pavlov, however, is an Indian of another skin."

"He'll interest you, Mrs. Newhall. He calls himself a priest, and the truth is that he has some sort of a vague, hereditary claim on the office. You see at one time this was Russian territory, and the entire native population were members of the Greek Church. This Pavlov is part Russian—he is the grandson, in fact, of a more or less discredited priest, but the rest of his blood is native. However, the natives accept him, kotow to him; he officiates at funerals and has some sort of a vested right to marry people."

"Pete will be with you until you have the casket safe on board; then he intends to leave the party, take his grub and traps, and go into the interior for the winter. Wait an instant—I'll bring him in and introduce him to you."

Pete, waiting outside, had dreaded even as he had longed for this moment. Though he had thought of little else for weeks he was not quite prepared for the first sight of the slender girl framed by the window, and the sea. Here she stood, the same woman he had left, the same witchery in her eyes and her smile.

He could no longer remember that he was Limejuice Pete. He had come in awkwardly fumbling his hat; but now he was staring, unable to speak, risking instant exposure by the white flame in his face. Yet there was no glimmer of recognition in Dorothy's manner. She smiled graciously, as at ways to the lowly, looked with keen interest into his bearded face, then stretched her hand.

Pete bowed awkwardly, then took the proffered hand; and its touch sent a violent electric shock throughout the intricate system of his nerves.

He dropped her hand instantly, then turned to face Ivan. The latter bowed courteously enough, but did not extend his hand.

And Dorothy, who had watched with deep interest, felt a dim, queer, inexplicable stir of resentment.

CHAPTER VII
At the Grave
THE Warrior was loaded, not only with supplies for the journey but also with Pete's winter outfit, and the entire party put to sea.

The Western Auto Supply company bowling team today was the undisputed champion of the Harbor league.

Although one more week's play is necessary to complete the circuit's schedule, the automobile parts quintette, at the A and B alleys here last night, captured three of a possible four points from "Red" Angell's Pen Pushers and clinches the championship. Even were they to lose all their points next week and the Certified Car Market, runner-up, win all their's, the title would not change hands.

Jack Campbell's men made a runaway race of it all during the season although during the early stages of the affair they were forced to the limit by the car market tie.

Play in the Santa Ana Boosters' league is nearing that crucial place where almost anything may happen. Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, made a slight gain on the pace-setters last night by winning from the Kelly Roofers, 3 to 1.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Interesting competition, spectacular contests and record-breaking performances are quite certain to be numerous during the track and field, swimming, rowing and boxing events at the Olympic games, but none of them promise to arouse the international interest that will follow the probable meeting of Miss Suzanne Lenglen, world's tennis champion, and Miss Helen Willis, the 18-year-old American champion.

The idol of the American court and the proud boast of her country already has scored one tremendous victory in Europe. "Our Helen," sidestepping the polite language of the game for adequate expression, knocked them dead when she arrived in England.

It had been predicted before the California girl sailed for her first trip across the Atlantic that her personal charm would win a place in the heart of the English, but no one realized that they would fall as madly in love with her as they did.

London newspapers remarked that it was not within memory when any foreign visitor so quickly and so completely captivated the affections of all who met her as did the charming American miss. American friends can picture the blush on the young champion's cheeks when she read that her pictures printed in England "did her beauty and her personal charm a grave injustice."

American newspapers always have been generous in paying tribute to the modesty and ability of their champion, but they have not gone so far as to tell how good looking she is.

While the primary purpose of her journey to Europe was to do her best in the Wimbledon matches and the Olympic championships, it is none the less important that she scored such a complete personal triumph. Col. Robert Thompson, president of the American Olympic Committee, said, during the early days of the organization of America's participation in the Paris games, that one of the principal purposes in entering a large number of teams was to sell the United States to the world.

He pointed out that the United States was being misunderstood greatly in Europe since the war and that the athletes had a great chance to show on the field of sport that the United States did have some real ideals. He insisted that the American athletes should be gentlemen first and victors after, if possible.

The ideals as laid out by Col. Thompson for the American athletes certainly were upheld for beyond their natural limitations by the American rugby team. If it is the American rugby team, it is the American athletes that the United States wants nothing more than an even break and will accept less without complaint, it was shown by the California football players.

Under the circumstances, then, it is most pleasing that Miss Willis sold herself and her country so successfully to the English people, even if the French may permit their poor sportsmanship to prejudice them against her when she goes to Paris. Whether Miss Willis loses at Wimbledon and Paris, or whether she goes back to the United States as the British, Olympic and world's champion, she will be long remembered in England as a charming girl, worthy of all the traditions that the United States likes to boast of possessing.

BOWLING NOTES

Monday was American Legion day at the Broadway bowling academy and a number of useful gifts were given away to shooters by local merchants. Grand prize for the entire day went to Frank Angell who had a total of 3068 points. Frank Nickey was second with 2150, and Hildebrand third with 2122. Angell will receive a $10 merchandise order from the Nash Outfitting company.

C. Hildebrand copped the second prize, a smoking set given by the McFadden Hardware company, for high score in a single game. Hildebrand shot a 226. Angell's 216 carried off the third award, two pairs of silk hose donated by Price and Son. L. A. Hart snatched fourth prize, a silk tie offered by Spencer Collins.

Mrs. Board captured ladies' first prize, a pair of silk hose donated by the Real Silk Hosiery company. Mrs. Faber was second and received a 3-pound box of chocolates from the Fuller confectionery. Miss Kroeger, third, was awarded a bottle of perfume by the Kelley Drug company and Mrs. Kolbe fourth, was presented with a $5 merchandise order by the Nash Outfitting company.

HIGH TAXES KILL VIENNA NIGHT LIFE

VIENNA, June 10.—Night life in the old city of the Hapsburgs can be described in one short word of three letters: it's a "dud" and no mistake. A number of factors have joined hands to help kill night life in this former pleasure city of central Europe. The League of Nations' reconstruction scheme demanded heavy taxes, and the government decided that the cabarets should furnish a goodly portion of these taxes. On every cocktail there is a tax of 30-45 per cent, and on all kinds of music there is a tax of 40 per cent. Private clubs which wish to have a little evening dance are subject to the same regulations. Disastrous speculation in French francs has also served to decrease the number of patrons at the more expensive cabarets and music halls. Since labor has the upper hand in Vienna, the tram cars cease running at 11 o'clock. All persons who wish to paint the town red into the wee small hours of the morning must therefore either hoof it or take a taxi. Being in no condition for walking, most suburb-livers stay home after paying one or two taxi bills.

LOCAL ROTARY AND KIWANIS TEAMS WIN OPENING GAMES IN NEW VOLLEY BALL LEAGUE

The Rotary and Kiwanis club teams of Santa Ana today were off to a flying start in their quest for the championship of the Inter-City Volley ball league, the first games of which were played on the Y. M. C. A. courts here last night.

The Rotarians defeated the Santa Ana Lions club two straight matches, 15 to 4 and 15 to 11. The Kiwanians also made their victory decisive by capturing a pair in a row from the Junior Chamber of Commerce by the scores of 15 to 7 and 15 to 11.

Two other teams also are seeking the championship trophy—the Orange Rotary and Lions clubs. They will mingle tomorrow night. H. A. Stryker captained the Rotarians in their set-to with the Lions. M. A. Patton, R. L. Brown, Elmer Heidt, Edwin McFadden and Marshall Keeler were others in the lineup. The Lions team, skippered by Ray Canterbury, included E. H. Rowland, Walter Spicer, Carson Smith and Glenn Tidball.

The league schedule follows:
June 13—Rotary, Orange, vs. Lion's, Orange; Lions, Santa Ana, vs. Kiwanis, Santa Ana.
June 18—Jr. Chamber of Commerce vs. Rotary, Orange; Lions, Orange vs. Rotary, Santa Ana.

BULGARS' FARM PARTY STILL BIG FACTOR

SOFIA, June 12.—Despite vigorous efforts of the present government to stamp out agrarianism in Bulgaria, the movement refuses to die and threatens to again become a factor in Bulgarian politics.

After the coup d'etat of last year, which brought about the fall of the agrarian ministry and resulted in the death of Premier Stamboulsky, the belief was prevalent that the agrarian party, as a political force, was dead. A majority of the deputies in the Sobranie who had been elected as agrarians hastened to dissociate themselves from the Stamboulsky faction and seek new political affiliations. The party ceased to have any official standing.

It has now become apparent, however, that the spirit of agrarianism has not died out particularly in the country districts. Bulgaria is essentially a peasant land and prolonged success on the part of any political group is not possible without the support of the peasants. The old agrarian government was a peasant's government, and the agrarian movement had almost its entire strength in the rural districts.

When the Tsankoff ministry succeeded the ill-fated Stamboulsky government it took immediate steps to crush the agrarian movement, and for a time it seemed that the death of Stamboulsky spelled the end of the party he had headed. The existing government is still doing all in its power to stifle the activities of the agrarians, claiming that the party is a destructive agency, with policies inimical to Bulgarian institutions. New treason laws recently enacted are aimed chiefly at the agrarians.

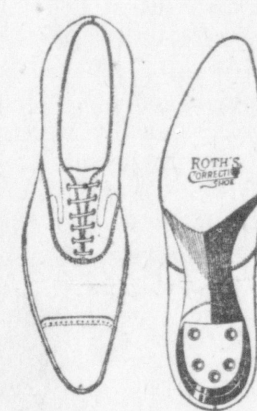

The peasants, however, have not forgotten the time when they held control of the government, and thousands of them regard Stamboulsky as a martyr to their cause. Recently a new leader has arisen in the agrarian ranks, and it is now believed that the time is not far distant when that party will have reformed its shattered lines and re-established its power.

The new leader is Dr. Petkoff, son of a former chief of the Stamboulsky faction, the most bourgeois party in the country. Petkoff is a young man who is rapidly adding to an already formidable reputation for political fearlessness and sagacity. His following among the peasants already is so strong as to stamp him as the unquestionable head of the party when it again becomes a political factor.

A PUZZLE A DAY

ALL
AN YE WEST
RAW

The jumble of words shown above apparently is nonsensical. But if the gaps between the words are changed; that is, if the letters are broken apart in different places, an intelligible sentence may be formed. The only word that remains as shown is the introductory word, "all" at the top. Can you form the new sentence?

Yesterday's answer:
If a pint of water weighed a pound, and a pint of sand also weighed a pound, water would be heavier than sand.
For water is measured by liquid measure, which contains 28.375 cubic inches to the pint; while sand is measured by dry measure, with 32.60 cubic inches to the pint. Thus it would require only 28.375 cubic inches of water to balance 32.60 cubic inches of sand, and water would, obviously, be the heavier!
